Here's Where Ottawa Gets Its Dollars

OTTAWA (BUP) — Here's where Finance Minister Walter Harris will get each dollar of the $1,763,000,000 revenue he budgeted for in 1956-57:

Corporation income taxes, 28 cents; personal income taxes, 27 cents; sales taxes, 14 cents; customs duties on imports, 10 cents; taxes on alcoholic and tobacco products, eight cents; other excise taxes, three cents; other taxes, three cents; non-tax income, seven cents.

And here's where each dollar of the forecast $1,650,000,000 in expenditures will go:

National defence, 39 cents; interest and service of public debt, 11 cents; family allowances, nine cents; payments to provinces, eight cents; veterans' affairs, five cents; public works, four cents; post office operations, three cents; general health grants and other social services, two cents; all other government spending, including the collection of taxes and the outlay to wipe out the 1955-56 deficit of $50,000,000 in the old age security fund, 19 cents.

Hamarskjold Peace Mission To Troubled Middle East Looms

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations Security Council is expected to meet in emergency session late this week or early next in answer to a United States call for urgent action on the Israeli-Arab crisis.

The U.S. delegation called on the council Tuesday for "urgent and early action."

The prospect was raised that Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold might be sent on a new peace mission to the Israeli area.

Henry Cabot Lodge, chief U.S. delegate, reported a build-up of armed forces near the Israeli borders by both sides, and said shooting incidents were "recurring at a dangerous rate." Border clashes have erupted frequently between Israel and the neighboring Arab states of Egypt, Jordan and Syria.

Lodge said the border clashes and armed build-ups were violations of the 1949 armistice negotiated with UN help.

"MATTER OF CONCERN"

"It is a matter of deep concern to the government of the United States," the American delegate continued, "and it therefore requests urgent and early action by the Security Council to consider the situation now prevailing in the Palestine area."

Diplomatic informants said the U.S., France and Britain want the Security Council to send Hammarskjold back to the area. The secretary-general returned last month from talks with Arab and Israeli leaders, and said they had promised to settle disputes peacefully. But there has been no let-up to border incidents.

There has been no hint yet of the new Western plan other than a Hammarskjold mission. A U.S. diplomatic source would say only that "a resolution containing proposals for action is being worked on."

TEL AVIV, Israel (Reuters) — Israeli Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion said Tuesday night Israel would carry the war into enemy territory if she was attacked by Arab countries. Speaking at a labor convention here, Ben-Gurion said Israel would not start a war against the Arabs but her resistance would not be merely passive if war came.

FROBISHER BAY, Baffin Island (CP) — Governor-General Vincent Massey flew into this Arctic base in a blizzard Tuesday night as old man weather gave him a disputed passage in his northward tour.

Wing Cmdr. W. G. Miller, pilot of the four-engine North Star vice-regal plane, took no chances and made two approaches to the field after his preliminary run before landing more than 15 minutes late.

Several hundred white folk and Eskimos waited anxiously in the drifting snow and temperatures of 14 degrees above zero for the plane to taxi in safely.

Soviet Views Awaited On Disarmament Plan

LONDON (Reuters) — Western disarmament experts met today in a further effort to private talks here Monday. Participating are Britain, France, the U.S., Canada and Russia.

Andrei Gromyko, first deputy Soviet foreign minister, then said he would like to study the project, which envisages world disarmament in three phases.

These start with pilot schemes to build confidence, based on President Eisenhower's "open skies" plan for mutual aerial inspection teams at strategic points to prevent any surprise attack.

In the final stage atomic weapons would be outlawed. Each phase would be subject to international inspection and control. It was to this aspect of the plan that Soviet views were most keenly awaited by the Western delegates.

B. C. Electric Optimistic About Gas Line to Island

Dr. Harry L. Purdy, operating head of the gas division of the B.C. Electric Co., is optimistic that a natural gas line to Vancouver Island will be built.

In a talk to Victoria Kiwanis Club Tuesday, he said: "I don't believe it will be built this year, but I hope that in this year we will be able to prove it is both physically and economically feasible."

Dr. Purdy said the prospect of piping natural gas to the Island had engaged the company's attention for three years past and two years ago the B.C. Electric, the Magna Pipeline Company and the West Coast Transmission reached an agreement.

It was agreed that West Coast would provide gas if the pipeline proved feasible; Magna Pipeline would study its physical feasibility and B.C. Electric would study its economic feasibility from a market point of view.

ONE CHOSEN

The Magna company engaged the services of the University of Washington hydrographic department to study seven possible routes. One, from south Bellingham to just south of James Island, had now been selected for final intensive study which would begin in the next two or three months.

On this route about 19 miles of the pipeline would be underwater. Pipes would be welded on flat beaches, sealed, then pulled in lengthening sections across the channels between islands.

Dr. Purdy said tidal currents represented one hazard in this operation and earth faults might break the line in the event of earthquakes.

"There is no such thing as volume it would cost $3.50 per 1,000 cubic feet to transmit."

"If a pipe breaks you abandon it and lay another. But on the physical side we see no insuperable difficulties in building a line."

"Actually the economic feasibility of the pipeline is the main problem to be faced."

The present plan is to lay two eight-inch lines at a cost of about $6,000,000.

To finance this cost, the pipeline company would have to earn about $850,000 a year, and to make the crossing pay would involve selling a very large volume of gas.

"The raw material for 1,000 cubic feet of manufactured gas now costs $1 in Victoria," he added, "and if natural gas were sold only in the present market

Farm Loans Board Under Criticism

(From Times News Services)

Liberals joined opposition members Tuesday in criticism of the operations of the Canadian farm loans board. The criticisms fell in two main categories:

1. The board's processing of loan applications is too slow.
 2. The basis on which loans are made is too low.
- Members discussed board operation during debate on second reading—approval in principle—of government-proposed amendments to the Canadian Farm Loan Act. The amendments would boost the maximum first mortgage loan to $15,000 from $10,000 and increase the base on which loans are made to 65 per cent of the farm's assessed value instead of 60.
- Henry Mang (L.-Que.) said the loan basis should be raised to 75 per cent of the assessment. Gage W. Montgomery (PC-Victoria-Carleton), L. Eston

HON. P. A. GAGLIARDI

... Stinking Planes,' Says Gagliardi

"The newspapers don't give me half a chance to explain. They've been very, very unfair to me. Those stinking planes..."

So said Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi Tuesday, back from a buying trip to Chicago, emphasizing he used government-owned aircraft only while on official government business.

The minister said newspaper stories had inferred he had used the aircraft for non-government business.

Aircraft log books, tabled towards the end of the recent legislative session, showed planes made 41 trips into Mr. Gagliardi's home town of Kamloops last year and Mr. Gagliardi flew in or out 26 times.

TO PREACH

He goes home most week-ends to preach in the Kamloops Calvary Temple of the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada where he is minister. The log books showed he was frequently accompanied on flights around the province by relatives and friends, including his family.

"As long as the planes are on government business, I don't care who travels with me. I have interviews with people in Kamloops on Saturday mornings," Mr. Gagliardi said. He said he saw as many as 10 people Saturday mornings.

The minister said he was so busy he hardly had time to eat "and all I've been getting from newspapers for putting myself into criticism."

STOP-OFF

He added: "Mind you, I wouldn't be making so many trips to Kamloops if it was not my home."

Often the interior city was just a stopping off place before continuing to another point in the province, he said.

Referring to log mention of the "Fox party" three Pentecostal minister friends of Mr. Gagliardi, he said: "I was going to see the Mission bridge, some policy trouble there. So I took these people with me. I can't see anything wrong with that."

As long as he was on department business he would take his family with him, he said, "as I don't see enough of them as it is."

COCKEYED

He said he had rented hangar space at Patricia Bay to Pacific Western Airlines for $880 a month, higher than anyone thought he could get.

"And then we get all this cockeyed foolishness about this airplane business."

"I've given you what I feel is the truth and if the public wants to condemn me, that's their prerogative. I'm serving the province of B.C. and when the people no longer want me I don't care. I'll serve the people any way I can."

"But the newspapers..." he concluded.

No Tax Relief For Average Man

Harris Snips Mere $12 Million From Budget; Surplus Expected

By ALAN DONNELLY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—The average Canadian gets no tax relief from the federal budget.

Finance Minister Harris Tuesday night snipped a mere $12,000,000 from government income sources in a budget which will collect anticipated record-breaking revenues from a booming economy.

The snipping is done by freeing a scattering of special-use goods from the 10-per-cent sales tax. Mr. Harris offered no change in existing levy on personal and corporate income tax and sales tax, and estimated a peak national production of $28,000,000,000 will yield a $113,000,000 surplus and unprecedented revenue of $4,763,000,000 in the fiscal year starting April 1. Budget spending would total a peacetime high of $4,650,000,000.

The minister's budget speech to the Commons also announced a stiff new excise tax on one type of foreign periodical to help protect Canadian magazines whose long-term future, he said, "appears to be in jeopardy" from imported publications.

Sales Tax Exemptions Extended

A year ago the 52-year-old Mr. Harris, in his first budget, lopped $148,000,000 from taxes—mainly in personal and corporate income taxes—in the fiscal year ending March 31. He forecast a deficit of $169,000,000 now—expected to be $51,700,000.

Only reductions of any substance in his new budget are in the exemption from sales tax at the manufacturer's level for about 20 types of goods, mainly for use in manufacturing, agriculture and construction. The exemptions are effective immediately. (See Page 6.)

They cover such items as repair and maintenance machinery used to service goods—making machinery, roofing tar and asphalt, and farm-used poisons.

The exemptions account for the $12,000,000 reduction. Various minor other tax changes won't affect revenue appreciably.

Budgets for Prudent Reserve

On the over-all tax picture, Mr. Harris said the forecast surplus is not much more than a prudent reserve against unforeseen circumstances.

The revenue and expenditure figures do not take into account the $40 monthly universal old age pension for those over 70, paid from a fund financed by special income and sales taxes.

In the coming year the special tax revenues are expected to total $336,000,000 and payments $379,500,000. The deficit of $43,500,000 will be included in the following year's budget as the 1955-56 shortage of $50,000,000 will be charged against the coming year's spending.

The forecast budget spending of $4,650,000,000 will be at a rate exceeded only in the Second World War. The Commons already has been asked to authorize $4,500,000,000 in expenditures and Mr. Harris said he sees no chance of getting the eventual total below his budget forecast.

GOLD RESTRICTIONS OFF

In the year ending March 31, budget spending will reach an expected $4,437,100,000 and indicated revenues will be $4,385,400,000—second in peacetime to the 1953-54 total of $4,396,300,000.

Mr. Harris' budget removed immediately the last of the restrictions on sale and export of gold which have existed for a quarter-century. Regulation of privately-owned gold exports is dropped and anyone now can buy, sell and ship gold freely.

As a further change in the government's tax-sharing offer to the provinces, he announced an increased guarantee of revenue under the proffered agreement.

As for provincial demands for a bigger share of the tax pie, he said "we cannot see how we can go further."

40 TARIFFS CHANGED

The revenue guarantee is boosted to 95 per cent of a province's take of shared tax fields in the preceding two years, instead of the previously-offered 90 per cent.

The budget also announced about 40 tariff changes, mostly small reductions, effective immediately. Biggest item is a widening of the range of duty-free parts of farm machinery and equipment, from which the sales tax also is lifted.

In the income tax field, Mr. Harris said regulations will be eased in dealing with profit-sharing and pension plans. And, retroactive to 1955, self-employed professional men, farmers and others will be allowed to deduct from taxable income the cost of attending a maximum of two conventions a year in Canada.

Harris Sees No End To Economic Boom

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Harris Tuesday night forecast a further rise in the Canadian economy for 1956 but emphasized the need for economic restraint to prevent inflation.

In his second budget speech to Parliament, since he took office in mid-1954, he predicted gross national production—value of all goods and services produced—will increase by five per cent in 1956 to a new high of almost $28,000,000,000.

This rise would be atop the big 10-per-cent increase in 1955 when the economy, outpaced by Mr. Harris' highest hopes and expanded by some $2,500,000,000 to $26,600,000,000. In his last budget he forecast the 1955 gross national product at $25,250,000,000.

"The blessings of an economy operating at a high level are pleasant indeed," said Mr. Harris, "but they bring with them new responsibilities for all of us."

"The objective should be to maintain a steady growth in economic activity without the process of expansion giving rise to inflation and instability. Consequently, in times like the present when private expenditures are expected to rise still further, the federal government itself has a special responsibility to see that its fiscal policies continue to be directed towards economic stability."

Processing of Loans Too Slow

Colin E. Bennett (L.-Que.) said the loan basis should be raised to 75 per cent of the assessment. Gage W. Montgomery (PC-Victoria-Carleton), L. Eston

"I do think," he added, "that the appraisers have been fairly cagey and conservative."

E. G. McCullough (CCF-Moose Mountain) suggested establishment of a revolving fund that would provide loans at interest of two or three per cent, instead of the present five.

Company Name Change Opposed

CCF leader Coldwell moved Tuesday to prevent a name change sought by a finance company.

He made his bid as the House considered the principle of a bill sponsored by J. Eugene Lefrancois (L.-Laurier) to change the name of Personal Finance Co. to Beneficial Finance Co.

"I object to using a name which is as deceptive as the name which this company seeks to use," he said. He suggested a better name for companies like Personal would be: "The predatory loan companies, for such indeed they are."

He moved that the Commons give the bill a six-month hoist—in effect killing it at this session. Other CCF members spoke in support of Mr. Coldwell's motion until debate was adjourned.

Hazen Argus (CCF, Assiniboia) said the company has a fronted parliament by using the name "Beneficial" instead of "Personal" in advertising literature before receiving authorization to do so.

Mr. Lefrancois said the company wants to change its name so that it will be the same as its parent company in the United States. It also sought to increase its capitalization to $10,000,000 from $1,000,000.

A new divorce procedure was proposed Tuesday by Senator H. Ross (L.-Alberta).

Opposing the bill introduced by Senator W. M. Aseltine (PC-Saskatchewan) to have the divorce machinery, now operated by the Senate, transferred to the Exchequer Court, Senator Ross suggested instead the amendment of Senate rules. His idea would be that all petitions for divorce on grounds of adultery be first submitted to the superior court of the province concerned.

Federal Works Outlay Reduced $10 Million

OTTAWA (CP)—Federal public works and capital investment will be restricted this year to immediate essentials in an effort to reduce the strain on the economy of heavy capital spending by private industry.

Finance Minister Harris Tuesday night touched on this policy in his budget speech in the Commons, mentioning a reduction in works estimates for 1956—37 of almost $10,000,000 from 1955-56.

Estimates tabled in the Commons last January for the fiscal year starting April 1 showed the works department's estimates alone were cut by $5,420,000 to $874,219,000. Mr. Harris said larger amounts needed by the northern affairs department and by the Trans-Canada Highway are more than offset by other reductions. The government plans to spend $11,000,000 on sections of the highway passing through national parks.

Mr. Harris said that in proposing small capital expenditures, the government is seeking to reduce the strain on the economy resulting from a large increase in capital expenditures which private industry plans this year.

OTTAWA (CP)—Proposed pay increases for federal civil servants cannot be estimated, Finance Minister Harris said Tuesday night in his budget speech.

Riterating that some increases in salaries and rates of pay are about due, Mr. Harris said he cannot say what they will cost. However, a general one-per-cent boost would cost about $9,000,000, including the required lump sum payment to the federal pension fund.

In view of this, the increases may involve a "very considerable sum," he added.

Prime Minister St. Laurent advised civil service organizations by letter in February that the government is compiling information on which to base decisions on the amounts and distribution of an increase. He expected at that time to have the information in about six weeks, or about mid-April.

All civil service organizations have been seeking increases since last autumn. The Civil Service Federation and the Professional Institute of the Public Service specified no amount. The Civil Service Association of Ottawa asked for increases ranging between 12 and 15 per cent while the Amalgamated Civic Servants of Canada asked for a $300 general boost.

High Costs, High Taxes

MR. HARRIS' BUDGET PROVIDES for a revenue surplus of $113 millions during the next year. That is a wise provision when the national economy is entering a period of inflationary strain — especially after two years of deficits. But the surplus is bound to be temporary. A year or two from now, when huge new expenditures are undertaken, the surplus will melt.

The clearest fact in the budget is not mentioned in Mr. Harris' speech. It is that all hope of substantial tax reductions in the visible future is disappearing in a welter of rising public costs.

Next year, for example, Mr. Harris must find more than $100 millions of extra money for the provincial governments. If the present hospital insurance scheme is implemented it will cost the Federal Government some quarter of a billion dollars annually at its beginning and much more later.

As the present budget shows, the nation is committed to high-cost government indefinitely and must pay for it in taxes. No doubt Mr. Harris had that fact in mind, though he did not mention it, when he rejected the temptation to reduce taxes this year. He knew he would soon need all the revenue he could lay hands on to meet the larger budgets of the future.

The minor tax cut of $12 millions this year will help certain industries and persons but will not affect the average Canadian in the least. There are no significant changes in the tariff and none could be expected until the Gordon Commission has reported on the national economy.

Mr. Harris' general forecast of economic conditions seems realistic. He does not expect our production this year to grow by the almost unbelievable margin of 10 per cent recorded last year. If it grows by 5 per cent as he expects, this will be better than normal and, of course, will increase the Government's revenues. But all the possible revenue increases seem to have been hypothecated to cover increasing expenditure.

The technical changes in the Government's financial offer to the provinces will give British Columbia nearly a million dollars a year more revenue than it had expected. They fall far short, however, of Mr. Bennett's demands and do not significantly alter the federal policy.

On the whole the budget seems wise under present conditions and Mr. Harris' refusal to cut taxes prematurely will not surprise anyone who looks beyond the current year.

THE RECENT SEVERE CRITICISM of Joseph Stalin reported from Moscow will probably seem no less confusing within the Soviet borders than outside.

In painting Stalin as a mad dictator whose fiendish sadism and hysterical suspicions resulted in the deaths of thousands of innocent people, Mr. Khrushchev is not straying far from the truth. But the fact that he should voice such criticism of the man who for 30 years was held up to adulation by the Soviet people is in itself a revolution of sorts.

It is such an abrupt change, indeed, that many dutiful supporters of Stalin's memory have been caught in the wrong cheering stands. Some groups in Stalin's native Georgia have been so incensed by the Kremlin's swift reversal of party line that they are reported to have risen in open rebellion.

There can be few doubts about the evils and horrors of the Stalin regime. There can be little doubt, either, that since his death conditions have been eased: the people have greater freedom, the imminent threat of the secret police has been lifted. It seems to be standard practice in Russia that to effect a change in policy it is necessary to denounce and revile those individuals who had espoused the former system. Hence to alter Stalin's tyrannical methods it is necessary to show the man himself to have been wrong in every way.

So much for domestic effects. A further reason for the Kremlin's outburst may be seen in the foreign repercussions. Mr. Khrushchev and his regime may be seeking to improve their international standing by picturing themselves as the victims, rather than the aiders and abettors, of the former despot.

Now, it would appear, these men stood helplessly by, unable to halt the terror-arrests, the slave camps, the bloody purges and the rest of the distinguishing marks of Stalin's regime. On the eve of official visits to Britain—for which Mr. Malenkov himself forms the advance guard—the Kremlin leaders may well feel a little moral and social bolstering is in order.

There is danger, of course, in such an operation. Some of the present élite were so close to Stalin that any damnation of him could at least singe them. Other questions are raised, too. Will the efficacy of a man so denigrated be allowed to continue in the Red Square mausoleum beside that of the great Lenin? And what of the earlier rumors that Stalin's exit from this world was assisted? If those surrounding him hated him as much as they now profess, it could well be that their impatience proved too much for them.

In any case we now have the incredible spectacle of the man who was no less than a god to a whole post-revolution generation in Russia being publicly and officially vilified. And with this goes the equally incredible spectacle of a nation of more than 200 millions obediently adjusting its thoughts and allegiances to conform to the Government's new line. It could only happen in Russia.

The Charge Is Incompetence

MR. GEORGE GREGORY HAS made a frank and unflattering statement on the position of Attorney-General Robert Bonner. It is a statement arising from Mr. Bonner's mishandling of the so-called Sturdy case and it is not to be dismissed lightly.

In his radio address last Monday evening the Victoria Liberal M.L.A. described the manner in which the Eversfield statutory declaration, containing charges of impropriety against Minister of Lands and Forest Sommers, had been brushed aside by Mr. Bonner as "political." He cited the Opposition's persistent efforts to have the matter properly investigated, "because it was obvious either that someone was guilty of perjury or that someone was guilty of corruption."

Under pressure of this criticism, noted Mr. Gregory, Mr. Bonner had called in an RCMP official to open investigations which, starting February 9, had not been completed Monday evening—an investigation of matters the Attorney-General had originally dismissed after a meeting lasting less than two hours.

Mr. Gregory has been at pains to explain that the Opposition has never said or inferred that the Eversfield charges were true. All the Opposition called for was a full and proper investigation.

The Victoria member draws the inescapable conclusion that, "the Attorney-General, by failing to view the Eversfield charges with the seriousness that the length of the police investigation shows they merited, has given reason to question whether he is fitted to retain his own office." The judicial investigation demanded by the Opposition was "not an investigation of the Eversfield charges alone, but of the Attorney-General's handling of the matter as well."

Mr. Gregory is right. Mr. Bonner has bungled the matter so seriously that the question of his competency as an Attorney-General is directly in question.

Seeing Canada First and Last

GOVERNOR-GENERAL VINCENT MASSEY has already made a name for himself as a Queen's representative who insists on seeing all parts of the country in which he officiates. That Mr. Massey is the first Canadian-born occupant of the office may or may not be the reason for his more than usual interest in Canadian travel.

In any case he divides his attention between places and the people who live in them. No Governor-General within memory has taken a greater interest in the men and women of this country and their way of living.

The man who gave his name to the history-making Massey Report on Canadian life and culture is still making valuable contributions to this country, and may be expected to continue.

ON Monday I somewhat rashly promised to do something for you today. I promised to let you feel the full effect of my new patriotic geographical song about "Take me back to Kitsilano." Well, the damned thing isn't written, for reasons I'll tell you later. It is a foolish thing to count your metrical feet before they are hatched. However, I will keep half my promise, and give you a glimpse of the "Work in Progress." I haven't got very far. I managed to work in my dear old school, the dear old girls, the dear old neighbors, and some scenery and weather. This is a good start. But it is only a start.

In a song of this sort it is also necessary to ask to be carried back to the dear old cookery, a special pal or buddy, and more than a mere dollop of Momism. A few strong lingering handclaps would not be amiss either. Plus a plug for the local brand of super-tolerance.

I SHOULD perhaps add that I was not a regular student at Henry Hudson School (which still stands near the south end of Burrard Bridge). I went there only once a week, for Manual Training. I went there shuddering with fear. I might say, and sticking very close to the other boys from my school, we felt we were surrounded by Apaches. But I did have another contact with Henry Hudson School. On one occasion my brother's army fought with lengths of plumbing, mostly pipe, and I was allowed to carry warm water to the wounded whom my mother was swabbing in our living room. I was only about seven or eight, but it made an impression.

Oh, and I should also say that so far as I know, it was not really named Henry Hudson School because the teachers were cast adrift in open boats. Nothing like this ever happened, so far as I know. If it did happen, it was hushed up. When I was small, I'd have been astounded to hear of any Hudson boy associating himself with water. According to our somewhat biased little myths, Hudson boys didn't touch the stuff in any form.

BUT let us get on with the ditty, what there is of it. Truncated and tentative though it is.

Come back to Kitsilano
Where the young delinquents grow,
And in spring the early cretins
Push upward through the snow,
Where everyone's misfortune
Is nobody's dull care
And a man can warm his fingers
At his neighbor's ruddy glare.
Come back to Kitsilano,
To the school of Henry Hudson
Where teachers out in open boats
Are cast upon the flood, son,
Where children learn debating

March 21, 1896—A good program has been prepared for the popular entertainment of the Y.M.C.A. tonight. There will be club swinging by Miss Purdy, professor in calisthenics, and a stereopticon exhibition.

March 21, 1916—Ex-mayor Cottrell of Seattle and Rev. E. A. Henry, Vancouver, will address a prohibition mass meeting in the old Victoria Theatre at 8 o'clock tonight. Johnathan Rogers will occupy the chair.

March 21, 1936—A gale blew the world into the vernal equinox, the time of equal day and night. The wind reached a velocity of 48 miles per hour here, according to F. Napier Denison of the Meteorological Observatory.

No Dearth

There will be no dearth of suggestions offered with regard to the proposed beautification of Victoria. Oak Bay may "lead the way" in planning with design and beauty that area bounded by St. Ann, Cranmore, and Monteith, which lies behind the fire hall on Monterey. It would serve a most important function in keeping children away from Bowker Creek. The entire "slumish" appearance of the field is at variance with the residences bordering the area.

It would bear notice to reflect upon this astute move of Premier Bennett's to concentrate attention away from the very grave happenings recently in the Legislature—despite the decided constructiveness of his announcement.

Superior Strength

May I have space for a few lines merely to ask your correspondent, Mr. S. A. Whitfield, who in your issue of March 14 condemns the obtaining of Salk vaccine from monkeys which he describes as torturing animals for human benefit, if he considers catching fish by tempting them to swallow hooks which tear them apart, trapping mink and foxes to obtain furs, and all other kinds of use to which always the stronger species have had to kill to eat in order to survive, to be unchristian?

In a world where every form of life depends upon its superior strength or other form of advantage for survival, how is the human species to survive except by taking advantage of inferior types for all needed sustenance?

And Britain Is Blamed

Since 1914 one has watched the occult forces at work and realized the great objective which was serving its purpose as a magnet for the undermining of Great Britain. The present distressful situation in Cyprus is in consequence being blamed on Great Britain, but since the United States of America practically own and run the island through having acquired its mineral wealth—as also terrific concessions in Greece—it is in fact the United States that has been taking over everything, everywhere, as Great Britain has been manoeuvred out, and, professing to be an ally of the latter, why does the United States not do something to really help the said ally?

Also what is the matter with Canada? Where is the noble independence which was the supposed cause for severing the ties with Great Britain? Is this country also on the way to being annexed for its potential wealth, so that the profits can be centralized in one part of the earth in order to support the modern Rome? Everywhere one looks on the economic map of the world the United States of America is drawing dividends—or more correctly stated, it could rightly be listed as a tribute.

It is also from the United States that the world is being bombarded with the eternal reminder of the gruesome consequences of communism, which now carries the strange similarity to that old story of "Little Red Ridinghood."

Pioneer Women

After reading in your valued paper of the establishment of a 19-man board to direct the 1938 Centennial Celebration, one wonders at the calibre of the present B.C. Cabinet, in overlooking the fact that pioneer women had a very large part in the making of our province.

The most rudimentary scanning of the historical facts of early British Columbia history cannot help but amaze everyone.

Surely there should be more than one woman on this so-called "19-man board."

All public spirited women's organizations should see that this glaring fault is corrected.

A short course of historical reading into the past of British Columbia is also recommended to the present Cabinet. It should prove to be a value and I am sure the estimable archivist could direct it from the wealth of materials in his care.

Improvements

I note that the laying out of a few million dollars is being contemplated for the purpose of beautifying the city of Victoria and would suggest that they start by getting rid of the unsightly electric light and telephone poles and placing the wires underground as is done in most civilized cities.

Also re a location for the celebrated totem pole, I would suggest either the grounds of the Parliament Buildings, or the grounds of the Empress Hotel, or Thunderbird Park. But putting it in Beacon Hill Park is only asking for trouble; it wouldn't last very long there, owing to the fact that Victoria has more than its share of hooligans.

RESIDENT.

The Jolly Gangsters

By JOSEPH AND STEWART ALSOP, from Washington.

IN the Soviet Union, the truth about Stalin is now being told with a vengeance, and even rather vengefully. It is difficult to imagine a more macabre scene than the special session of the Communist Party Congress at which Nikita Khrushchev made the astonishing speech that has now leaked out. Here were the heirs of Stalin, and all the higher managers of the iron system that he formed. Here, on the platform itself, were not a few whose hands were—deeply stained with the blood of Stalin shed.

Here, at the speaker's stand, was the stocky, outwardly jolly little man whom Stalin personally chose to preside over the ruthless massacres that reduced the restive Ukraine to its final subjection after the war. And this little man was saying the unsayable, mentioning the unmentionable, speaking about the unspeakable—pouring out all the long tale of Stalin's purges in the army and purges in the party, of Stalin's secret assassinations and encouraged suicides, of Stalin's plots and counterplots, of Stalin's sadism and megalomania.

And he was saying, furthermore, that almost all of Stalin's victims, who were also the victims remember, of the same iron system, Nikita Khrushchev, now directs, had after all been innocent of any crimes. And so the memories were honored of those same "criminal beasts" whom Nikita Khrushchev and every other man on the platform and in the hall had so loudly reviled, when they fell under the displeasure of the old dictator and were thus condemned to die.

Sordid Drama

If the reports of Khrushchev's speech are correct, in truth, this scene at the Party Congress must have reached the heights of sordid drama of those scenes in the Roman Senate, after the death of one of the tyrant emperors, for which the great Tacitus always dipped his historian's pen in acid of double strength.

The magnates of the empire, living in fear no longer, would hurry to celebrate the tyrant's passing. Days or even hours before they had prostrated themselves before the dead man to lick the dust from his shoes—and they had hastened to obey his most sanguinary whims.

But now they would draw their purple-bordered togas close about them in a brave show of righteous indignation. And one by one, they would bitterly denounce the crimes they had formerly applauded, and boldly heap blame on the dead for the crimes they had themselves committed.

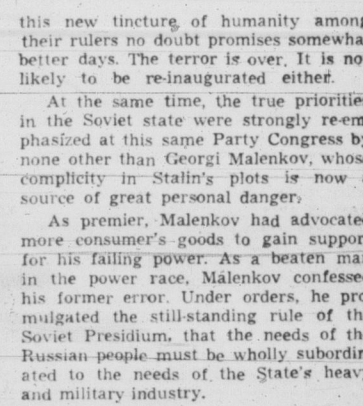

Thus far back in history one must go to find an adequate parallel for the scene at the Party Congress. But the question remains just what does this scene mean to us?

Simple Answer

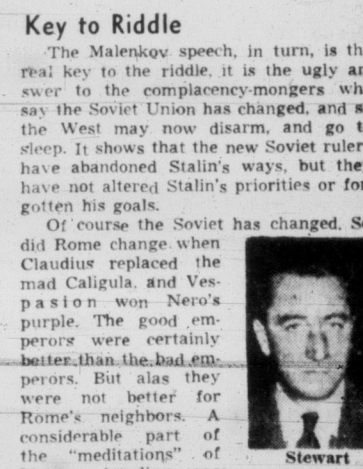

A simple answer is given by George F. Kennan, the student of the Soviet Union whose judgment has most often been sustained by events. It means, he says, "That a morbid monster has now been replaced by jolly gangsters."

In Kennan's opinion, Stalin was one of those whom the corruption of absolute power deprived of common humanity, without, alas, depriving him of uncommon ability. His successors are products of the Stalin system, but they are not inhuman; they are embittered by all the humiliations that Stalin made them suffer; and in a sense they mean what they are saying about him.

For the people of the Soviet Union,

Joseph

Stewart

As a general's tent by night, in the camps of the legions. And the Romanians of our own day owe the language they still speak to the philosopher-emperor's career as a stern conqueror. Khrushchev is no philosopher-ruler, but once again the parallel fits.

EXPLOSIVE POETRY

I have churned out work and done work to order, and it is by no means my worst, I find. But in every case of that kind, what one uses is an idea which has lain dormant in one's mind for a long time. In my case, I feel that poems are concepts which have entered perhaps very many years ago, have lain in the unconscious mind for a long time and at the touch of some stimulus will suddenly emerge as a poem. What first comes is a phrase, crystallizing as it were to some medium, crystallizing out of a mood, and round the phrase the rest of the poem gradually collects and aggregates itself. The phrase may be in the middle of the poem or any part of it, but you can already tell from the phrase the shape of the rhythm and there will be as it were, an arc or part of a shape from which the rest can be inferred. A poem is, as it were, an explosion at the centre of one's being which expresses itself in ripples which gradually reach the periphery and that rhythm is decided by the explosion at first, and the tempo of the ripples which are set up from it. It hits one like some energy; in fact, it sometimes, in my youth at least, used to hit me so hard that my eyes watered as though I had been hit on the nose.

Steam-Bath Murder

LONDON—Orson Welles has been ripped to ribbons by the critics for his film of Othello, completed in Europe a couple of years ago but not released until now.

Everything, it would seem, is wrong with it—badly lit, soundtrack, terrible, Shakespeare's lines garbled, acting appalling etc., etc. He had financial problems in the making of it. This caused him, among other things, to film the famous scene of Cassio's murder in a steam-bath rather than on a street, as Shakespeare had it.

Reburn

Welles couldn't get hold of the necessary costumes, so he had what was to him the brainwave of transferring the scene to a steam-bath where the characters would need only to wear towels. No one can find a good word for Welles' Othello which, incidentally, also stars Canada's Suzanne Cloutier.

Said one critic: "It may be the death-knell of a great talent."

NEW METHOD of slimming has found its way here from Sweden. It is a product called "Minus," a light brown powder which can be bought without doctor's prescription and which you add to water to drink before the meal. Although you might be really hungry and looking forward to bogging into a big meal, Minus will kill your appetite stone dead.

Swedish research chemists tested it on hospital patients for a year-and-a-half before their medical board would okay it. It has now been on sale in Sweden since December without any ill effects to the public. Principle of this "slimming cocktail" is that when it reaches your stomach it sets into a jelly and, although you haven't eaten, you feel that you're well filled.

TALKED TO youthful Robert Russell of Toronto who tells me he is a theatrical producer in that city and in other spots in Canada. He has been six months in Paris and here he is currently doing publicity for an experimental theatre in the East End, prior to returning to Toronto to have a crack at that old one of bringing theatre to Canada. His idea is to stage plays in Canada's sports arenas.

OVERHEARD in a London department store: "This is the boss's son—he's working his way up from the bottom for a couple of days."

AS FEBRUARY went out, leaving behind London's coldest day this century (Feb. 1: 24 degrees.) I heard this wry comment from an American visitor: "I've found out why the English have the plumbing on the outside of their houses—so that it's easy to get at when it freezes."

ROYAL DRESSMAKER Norman Hartnell has been commissioned to design eight new dresses for ladies of the Royal family. He is busy now on the fittings—at Madame Tussaud's waxworks. The new gowns are to freshen up the clothes of the royal group there. He is charging the usual prices he charges the Queen and other women of the Royal family, but there's more work involved.

Though the Tussaud's models are exact replicas of the royal figures, clothes made to measure for flesh-and-blood don't hang correctly on wax dummies, so he has to do complicated adjustments on the spot.

YOUR HEALTH

Live Richly Every Day

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine Mayo Foundation.

A while ago I was made thoughtful by the story told me by a highly cultivated widow, a patient of mine. She told me how when her elderly and able and well-to-do husband had a cancer of the bowel cut out, the surgeon had said he was sorry but some of the bad cells had grown into the liver and all that could be hoped for was perhaps another year of life.

Dr. Alvarez

The man did not fuss or fret or become fearful about this. He just said to his wife, "Let us make this coming year the happiest and richest and most beautiful that we have ever known." Accordingly, the couple traveled to beautiful places; they went to concerts and heard lovely music and in their home they did much entertaining of interesting people; they read many fine books that they had always wanted to read together, and they took time in which to enjoy each other's companionship as they never had done before.

They searched out gifted students, working their way through nearby universities; they made friends of these young people and lent or gave them money with which greatly to ease their strain of living. In other words, these people lived as richly and beautifully as they knew how to live. They tried to cram as much happiness as they could into the months that were left to them.

"I think theirs was a beautiful idea. Many persons will doubtless say, 'But they had wealth, my wife and I could not do anything like that.' Perhaps not exactly, but you could do many things to live beautifully and happily for a memorable year.

MAKE THE MOST OF IT

The main point I want to make is one that will doubtless occur to many persons; and this is, if these two friends of mine could live so beautifully for a year why shouldn't all of us who are married try to live beautifully every day? How do we know that we have even a year of life ahead of us? So often, when I hear that an old friend has dropped dead, or has been killed in an accident, or has been carried off by a stroke, I think, "I was chatting happily with him two weeks ago, and here he is gone. When I said goodbye to him so casually that day, I did not know it was forever, and that I would never see him again."

Some of the most hopelessly unhappy

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

When I know are those who one day had a most unpleasant fight with their husband over some petty annoyance. That night he was brought home dead, and ever since, oh, how the wife has wished she had sent him to work in a happy mood, and how she wishes now that she could have just five minutes in which to apologize to him and say "I am so sorry."

I remember a woman who was a regional president of a great temperance society. One night, when her husband got an attack of terrible pain in his chest, he got up and walked the floor. Finally, he found a bottle of whisky that a friend had left him for Christmas; he took a stiff drink, and with this got enough relief so that he could get back into bed. The wife was so outraged at his "drinking" that for an hour she reviled him, and called him a lot of nasty names.

When in the morning she woke to find him dead, she never got over her grief and shame. Then years later, when I last saw her, she still was a most unhappy woman, wishing and wishing that her husband could come back for even two minutes, so that she could say she was very sorry and could ask his forgiveness.

Obviously, the moral is: Let us all try to live richly and happily every day; who knows how many more days we will have?

IMPROVED ANESTHESIA

It is, good to note of late that a number of kindly anesthetists have been devising ways of putting children to sleep before an operation. The ideal way would be to put the child to sleep as he sits in his mother's lap—in his hospital room. It is wrong to take the poor little fellow all alone into an operating room where he knows no one. He may not even have met the surgeon who is going to operate. Since some persons can die of fright at the start of an operation, it is advisable that the child be put to sleep without a fright or a struggle.

Today, this is being done with the help of a toy rabbit or other such animal whose face is studied by the child as an anesthetic emerges from a tube running from a tank to the face and out through the mouth of the animal. The child breathes the gas and is asleep before he realizes what is happening to him.

This is a good beginning, and now more and more efforts should be made to avoid frightening children and adults in hospitals. It is not a pleasant experience even for an adult to be wheeled alone into an operating room filled with frightening instruments and apparatuses. Too often there is no one there who knows him and can greet him and put him at ease.

RUSSIA BANS SALMON FISHING FOR 4 MONTHS

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Russia has clamped a four-month "restriction" on salmon fishing by ships of all nationalities in a wide stretch of the northwestern Pacific. Tass news agency said today.

The agency said the council of ministers of the Soviet Union had decided on the restriction to put an end to the "rapacious" catch of salmon on fish migration routes in the open sea.

The restrictions were a temporary measure "until the conclusion of a suitable agreement with the interested countries."

Bassett Takes No. 1 Post With Gazette

MONTREAL (CP)—The Montreal Gazette, Tuesday night, announced the appointment of John Bassett as chairman of the board of directors after 46 years with the daily newspaper including 19 years as president.

Mr. Bassett, 70, is succeeded as president and managing director by C. H. Peters, who steps up from executive vice-president.

Mr. Bassett represented The Gazette at Ottawa as resident correspondent for 15 years after 1911, serving as president of the Parliamentary Press Gallery in 1925-26. He was a Canadian delegate to the third Imperial Press Conference in Australia in 1925.

In 1912, when only 27, Mr. Bassett became director of The Gazette and subsequently was a director of the Canadian Press. Seven years later he was named vice-president of The Gazette and in 1937 became president.

The Bassett name won further prominence in the newspaper world when Mr. Bassett's son, John Jr., became publisher of the Toronto Telegram.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... tiny parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what JAYNE'S P.W. tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the large intestine where they dissolve. Then—Jayne's P.W. tablets, medically-approved, ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P.W. Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Bishop Quits Catholic See In Louisiana

Was Key Figure In Racial Dispute.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Most Rev. Jules B. Jeannard has resigned as Roman Catholic bishop of Lafayette, in Louisiana, where he communicated today by Most Rev. Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, apostolic delegate to the United States. Bishop Jeannard is 77 years old.

The announcement made no mention of the ex-communication incident, but said "the diocese of Lafayette, with one of the largest negro populations in the United States, has been the scene of Bishop Jeannard's strenuous efforts to provide church ministrations and education for the negro people."

Bishop Jeannard decreed the ex-communication of the two women last November following the beating of Mrs. Lula B. Ortemond, who taught one of the integrated classes at the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes in Erath, a southwest Louisiana community.

The decree was lifted shortly afterward when Bishop Jeannard said he had learned the two women had repented their act.

Religious classes, which were halted at the church after the assault on Mrs. Ortemond in mid-November, were resumed several weeks later, with white and negro pupils in the same classroom, as before.

He said claims of TV rival Bill Rea that he would deliver twice the picture and twice the sound of the CKDA station were "simply not true."

"In television, power isn't the whole story," he said. "Our engineers have assured us our station will deliver at least as strong pictures and sound as that planned by Mr. Rea."

Mr. Armstrong said the camera and transmitting equipment to be installed by CKDA could "deliver color TV as soon as the city is ready for color."

His personal reason for wishing to enter the TV field, he explained, is because "TV is radio with eyes. Radio and TV complement each other. Vice-Bassett is grooming, and we have of directors after 46 years with the daily newspaper including 19 years as president."

Mr. Bassett represented The Gazette at Ottawa as resident correspondent for 15 years after 1911, serving as president of the Parliamentary Press Gallery in 1925-26. He was a Canadian delegate to the third Imperial Press Conference in Australia in 1925.

In 1912, when only 27, Mr. Bassett became director of The Gazette and subsequently was a director of the Canadian Press. Seven years later he was named vice-president of The Gazette and in 1937 became president.

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL

Early Vegetables Need Dried Areas

Almost every garden has an area which dies out and is workable long before the remainder.

If this spot is where you can plant vegetables you are lucky. Early sowings are useless in heavy, wet clay, but are a pleasant form of gambling if the soil is prepared to receive them.

There are still the hazards of frosts and heavy rains, but the ingenious gardener will have cold frame lights to use as covers for a night or two. A few seeds of the harder subjects, such as peas, broad beans, spinach, carrots, beet and white turnip may be easily replaced if they fail to come through.

Hilda

If some of these young vegetables are ready to use even by the end of May, you will be most popular around home.

Sifted compost may be spread along the marked out row, the seed sown on the compost, and further screened compost or a mixture of it with sand, sprinkled on top.

Do not cover small seed too densely, but gently pat the covered row with either the back of the rake or the hoe blade.

Any dry, warm spells we might enjoy during March will aid in the conditioning of heavy soils, but doubt the benefit will be noticed if the soil is lightly dug, tilled, or otherwise disturbed at the surface for the sun's warmth to penetrate.

Full Bank Powers For Credit Unions?

Federal Finance Minister Prepared To Discuss Extension of Activities

OTTAWA (BUP)—The government is ready to discuss extending credit unions the same treatment it gives to the chartered banks of Canada, Finance Minister Walter Harris said in his budget speech.

1.5% Dividend Declared By Credit Union

SOOKE—A dividend of 1½% was declared at the annual meeting of the Sooke and District Credit Union held here recently.

Reporting to the membership, president Frank Ericson reviewed the growth from 11 members who founded the group only 18 months ago to close to 60 shareholders today.

R. Montgomery, chairman of the credit committee, pointed out that loans totalling over $2600 had been made to members during the past year.

Reports were heard from secretary J. Zelenko and from D. R. Forrester of the supervisory committee. On behalf of the executive members, Frank Humphrey, field representative of the B.C. Credit Union League, presented a pen and pencil set to Mr. Forrester, who is one of the charter members and who is leaving the district and moving to the mainland.

Directors to replace vacancies were elected as follows: L. Rumsby and K. Hill for three years and I. French for a two-year term. On the supervisory committee: G. Hay for three years and W. Hewitt for one year; credit committee: W. Jesman, three years and R. Blouin for one year.

Guest speaker for the evening was Bert Tennant of the Street Railwaymen's Credit Union in Victoria. In tracing the history and growth of the credit union movement, Mr. Tennant pointed out that there are over 5,600 members in the Greater Victoria district and their combined assets amount to over $1,000,000 dollars.

Farm Machinery Parts Assured Duty-Free Import by Harris

OTTAWA (CP)—Farm machinery, including snaths, milking parlors and bird-scaring devices, came in for special treatment Tuesday night in Finance Minister Harris' budget.

For many years it has been government policy that farm machinery and parts should enter Canada duty-free. However, several decisions by the tariff board have stated that certain parts for farm machinery—such as a generator for a tractor—are subject to tariff.

Mr. Harris said steps are being taken to ensure that generators and snaths—scythes to city folk—and their parts can be imported free of duty.

Decisions of the tariff board had resulted in important changes in tariff classification practices and the scope of duty.

SCOPE NARROWED
The tariff item covering farm machinery refers to both machinery and parts.

Some of the machinery and the parts affected include steel stanchions for livestock and equipment for milking parlors, automatic bird-scaring devices, dehorning instruments, and apparatus using poisonous cartridges for the destruction of predatory animals.

Quibbling Civic Groups Rapped On Knuckles by Mayor Westwood

NANAIMO—Mayor Earle Westwood cracked the whip over the heads of parks board, recreation commission, arena commission, and Exhibition Association at a special meeting Tuesday night, in an effort to establish co-ordination of effort.

He said: "It seems to me there is a definite lack of harmony between the various groups."

"He pointed out almost $30,000 of the taxpayers money went into the various organizations here last year and they don't seem to be getting their money's worth."

He told the joint meeting that council was faced with "an extremely heavy budget this year and every avenue is being explored to institute measures to increase economy and efficiency."

"Biggest problem he said was that of financing various groups serving recreational needs of the community."

"We are so deeply concerned over this matter that unless the groups can resolve the problem outlined we will have no alternative but to take the initiative ourselves."

Mayor Westwood said the parks board received $24,500 in 1955, "and they have indicated they will require a substantial increase in 1956."

The recreation commission received $7,400 from the city in 1955 and has applied for a grant of $10,500 this year.

The arena commission received grants totalling $5,600 to cover an operating deficit in 1955 and will need $11,500 this year.

The Exhibition Association has applied for funds to develop sports facilities at Beban Park.

READY FOR ANYTHING—ANYWHERE

Back at work after complete refit is Island Tug and Barge towboat Island Commander. Tests have shown her ready for any towing task that is likely to crop up. She has a cruising range of a month. (Photo by George N. Y. Simpson.)

CHIPPING HAMMERS TAKE OVER

Waterfront Throbs With Activity As Spring Sparks Annual Refits

By MONTE ROBERTS

Spring comes to the waterfront with the clink of chipping hammers, the acrid smell of red lead, and the throb of engines being tested at full power.

Spring is refit time for the stately Princess liners, the huffing-puffing tugs, and, in fact, for everything that floats.

A little ship with a big job to do was among the craft finishing refit last week. The stubby, chunky, amazingly seaworthy Banfield Lifeboat (that's her name as well as a description of her job) was given the full treatment at McKay-Cormack Ltd.

MOTOR OVERHAUL

In addition to the regular clean-up, paint-up treatment, the lifeboat's 113-horsepower motor was taken out of the hull, dismantled, tested and reassembled.

The Banfield Lifeboat is still practically new—she was built in 1951—but in her line of work an engine failure could be fatal. She'll be back on station this week.

Island Commander is back at work for Island Tug and Barge this week after a refit which actually made a new towboat of her.

She has been re-powered with an eight cylinder Union diesel rated at 1,200 horsepower, which will turn out closer to 1,500 with super-charger cut in. Island Commander also got a new towing winch—with 2,200 feet of wire—new electric steering mechanism, new water storage tanks.

GO ANYWHERE

Result is a powerful, manoeuvrable, go-anywhere towboat with a cruising range of better than a month.

On full power and steering trials last week, she showed a group of local shipping men what she could do. When Capt. Charlie Goodwin rang for full ahead, Island Commander dug her stern down and put her shoulders to it, tossing off bow and stern waves that would do credit to HMCS Ontario.

While speed isn't an important factor in towboating, Commander averaged a creditable 13-plus over the Albert Head measured mile.

Her electric steering mechanism gives her a tight, fast turning circle. Island Commander will be used on short towing hauls until her new machinery is thoroughly broken in, then sent outside to join Sovereign in moving self-dumping log barges along the West Coast.

A larger ship in port last week was undergoing refit on the run, so to speak.

Blue Master, a Norwegian here on her maiden voyage, was having her topside paint work freshened up while topping off a lumber cargo here.

NOTED FOR CARE

But the visitor rather suspected Blue Master would be undergoing paint-up come spring, summer, fall or winter. Scandinavian masters and mates are noted for the care with which they maintain their ships.

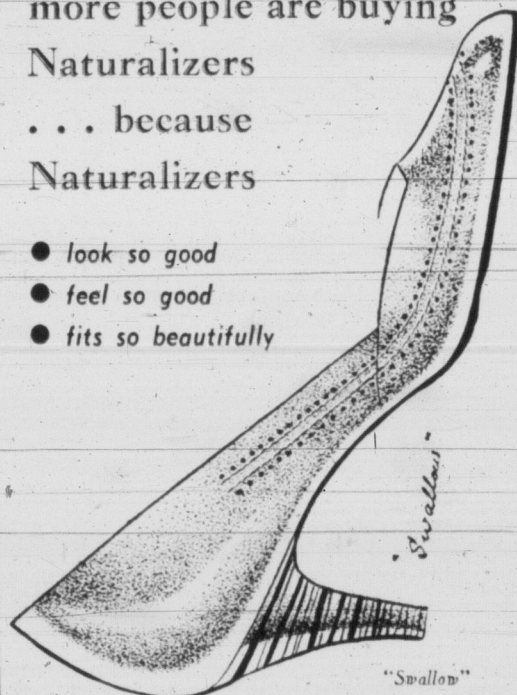

Blue Master, incidentally, was named after a brand of cigarettes popular in her home port of Oslo. The reason: her owner also owns the cigarette manufacturing company.

The ship was German-built, in a matter of less than six months, and lacks for nothing in the way of fine fittings and essential machinery. She was represented here by King Bros. Ltd., agent.

PORTRAIT OF A HAPPY GOAL

Even before the puck (circled) settled in the net, Victoria Cougars' Wayne Brown, second from right, let loose a happy victory yell Tuesday night. Wayne scored the tying goal against New Westminster in the

IT'S MY VIEW BY Bill Walker

ROUNDING THE PUCK DOWN HOCKEY'S HIGHWAY

Fame is only fleeting and often flicker, so why not bask in the limelight while you can.

Sid Smith, Toronto's classy left winger, scored 33 goals last year. This year he got five.

Arnot Whitney, the Cougar defenceman, scored a goal just seven seconds after taking the ice for the first time as a Cougar. Arnot has yet to score his second goal.

The western division of the WHL did better than alright against the prairie section this year.

In interseasonal competition, Western teams won 39, lost 36 and tied five.

Vancouver's Phil Maloney won the scoring title; three of the top four places in the scoring race were taken by western players, Bob Love and Blinky Boyce of Royals, being the others.

Gordon Fashoway, of New Westminster scored the most goals—47. Love the most assists—63.

Ray Mikulan of Canucks topped the goalkeepers, while Marcel Pelletier was second. The positions were reversed in the shutout department, with Pelletier setting a new league record of eight and Mikulan equaling the old mark of seven.

QUOTABLE QUOTE by co-writer Kenny Mackenzie of the Royals

"With Anderson in there, you're a different team. He makes that line go and in my opinion is another of the under-rated players in the league; and that line (Kilburn, Macauley and Anderson) is as good as there is in the league."

The note in the post provided the reminder:

Here's how we said the WHL would finish:

In the western division:

Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster and Seattle.

In the eastern division:

Calgary, Winnipeg, Edmonton, Saskatoon and Regina.

That was in November. Only the Stamps let us down, which goes to prove that we aren't infallible.

We wonder how many fans realized that Cougars were carrying six rookies in their regular line-up this season? Or that when Larry Leach and Pete Pansagabko joined the clubs the roster included eight rookies? All of which is that much more credit to the club for its second-place finish. The other rookies are Bill Dohbyn, Nelson Bullock, Jim Robertson, Bruce Carmichael, Don Chiupka and Fred Wonski. . . or that, in all, Cougars tried out a total of 14 freshmen this season.

"Strategy at work" was the subject of last night's WHL playoff game at Memorial Arena. . . Cougar coach Eddie Olson gambled on one line doing the big job for the Cougars in stopping the Royals' high-powered trio of Fashoway, Boyce and Love. . . That being done by Teal, Robertson and Chiupka. Olson used his own "big line" of Kilburn, Anderson and Macauley against the Royals' so-named third line centered by Arnie Schmautz. . . But coach Max McNab had the answer. . . he went along with Olson's plan, but used that unit only sparingly in order to minimize the potential of the Gold Dust Trio, and that worked too as Macauley, Kilburn and Anderson probably saw less service in this game than in any other contest this season. . . of such psychology are playoffs, contested—Olson dictating the terms and getting the jump Tuesday.

Burkemo Edges Kroll Fleck Fades to Third

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Walton Burkemo fired a 70 to win the professional division of the Seminole golf tournament in gusty winds Tuesday, finishing two strokes ahead of Ted Kroll of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Most of the second day's scores in the 36-hole tournament were considerably higher because of the erratic winds. Burkemo's two-day score was 68-70-138. He won $1,500.

Jack Fleck, United States Open champion who had matched Burkemo's 68 in the first round, shot a 73 Tuesday and slipped to a tie for 14th for third place with Ed Furber of St. Louis, Mo.

Kroll and his partner, Herbert Schaffer, a New York amateur, won the pro-am best ball division with a score of 62-63-125.

Vernon Takes Two-Game Lead

VERNON, B.C. (CP)—Vernon Canadians bounced into a 2-0 lead in their best-of-seven Savage cup finals Tuesday night, with a decisive 6-1 triumph over Spokane Flyers.

The Flyers, champions of the Western International Hockey League, went into a 1-0 lead in the first period on left-winger Jack Miller's unassisted goal at 4:28.

Tom Steyck got that back for the Okanagan senior champs half way through the middle period. Vernon blew high on five third-period goals. They came from Frank King, Odie Lowe, George Agar, Don McLeod and Willie Schmidt.

Habs Crush Blues Wings Edge Leafs

MONTREAL 7, New York 1

MONTREAL (CP)—The master-minding contest between two rookie coaches getting their baptism in Stanley Cup hockey stands 1-0 in Joe Blake's favor today, thanks to the near-perfect offensive of his Montreal Canadiens and the explosive power of the amazing Maurice "Rocket" Richard.

With coach Phil Watson looking on almost in disbelief, New York Rangers absorbed a 7-1 lashing in the opening game of their cup semi-final Tuesday night.

The man who led the rout and all but mopped up the Rangers single-handed was the fiery 34-year-old Rocket, who scored three goals with all the flair he has shown through the 14 long seasons he has toiled in the National Hockey League.

LICKED FROM START

Watson and his Rangers were licked virtually from the start when they decided to play defensive hockey against the powerful Montreal machine. The tactics paid off only briefly. It was apparent to the 13,611 fans that it was only a question of time before something happened. Then the New York strategy was blown sky high.

Along with Richard's hat trick came a pair of goals by Bernie Boom Boom Geoffroy and singles by Dickie Moore and Jean Beil.

Defenceman Jack Evans scored New York's goal after Canadiens had set up a 2-0 lead.

The crowd was puzzled to see the Rangers—usually willing to play it wide open—suddenly fall back into the old "kitty" style at the opening of the first period.

"TOO EASY"

When it was all over Blake said the game was "a little too easy," but said the Rangers are bound to be tougher when the teams meet here Thursday night in the second game of the best-of-seven series. Watson was chagrined.

"We had to try something," he said in justifying his defensive tactics. "We hadn't won here all season, so we tried that. I don't know how we will play Canadians Thursday; I'll have to think it over."

Warriors Trounce Quakers

Winnipeg 6, Saskatoon 1

By The Canadian Press

Season-end standings are holding up in the Western Hockey League's preliminary playoffs.

Winnipeg Warriors, who capped the prairie division in their first WHL season, pounded the fourth-place Saskatoon Quakers, 6-1, Tuesday night.

Of the seven teams entered in both playoff series, only Vancouver Canucks have yet to play. The coast leaders travel to New Westminster tonight for the second game in a double round-robin series between the top three coast teams. The two clubs with the most points meet in a best-of-seven series for the right to play the prairie winner.

Winnipeg and Calgary have one game edge in their best-of-five prairie semi-finals. Calgary eased past Edmonton Flyers 5-4 Monday night in the playoff opener. The preliminary winners tackle each other in a best-of-seven final.

QUICK LEAD

At Winnipeg, 6,276 fans cheered Warriors to a fast 4-0 lead in the first period. The winners matched single second period points with Quakers and added an unanswered tally in the third.

Mike Nykoluk and Skippy Burchell got two goals apiece. Paul Masnick and Gary Aldern added the others. Len Haley ended Ed Chadwick's shutout attempt with a 40-foot backhander 28 seconds before the middle frame ended.

Edmonton is at Calgary in the only other WHL game tonight.

Santee on Shelf Again As Judgment Reserved

NEW YORK (AP)—Wes Santee, America's No. 1 miler, was shelved again Tuesday.

Justice Walter A. Lynch of the New York State Supreme Court refused to continue a temporary injunction Santee had obtained against the United States Amateur Athletic Union which banned the AAU from enforcing its lifetime suspension on him.

Justice Lynch reserved decision on Santee's plea to have the injunction made permanent. He did not say when he would announce that means unless Justice Lynch reaches a favorable decision for Santee by Saturday, the lean runner corps lieutenant will not run in the Chicago Daily News relays this Saturday.

Santee obtained a temporary injunction shortly after the AAU suspended him on Feb. 19 on charges of accepting excessive expenses in meets last year.

First Flip in Tiny Plane Flops Tummy

BY KITTY DIXON

Ever wondered how it feels to fly in a light plane? I have . . . and I found out.

My pilot was school teacher Georgina Watchorn — only woman flyer in a group of 36 Victoria Flying Club members slated to receive their wings certificates at the club's annual wings banquet next Saturday.

I don't mind admitting that when I climbed into the tiny Cessna plane, it was with great misgivings at my own sense of judgment. At that moment, I could not fathom why I had allowed myself to be persuaded that this business of flying for fun is meant for those (like me) who cherish life and limb.

The Cessna "CF-112F" is a tiny moth of a plane, and I felt certain this one's life span was spent. My convictions were only strengthened by an eternal five-minute wait while propellers whirled and the engine warmed up.

Georgina, busied herself by making checks—flaps, ailerons, trim set, radio, oil pressure, temperature . . . every detail had to be attended in readiness for take off.

LAST-MINUTE CHECK

Georgina called the control tower and the operator allotted us a runway according to the wind. We taxied along the strip and Georgina made her final check.

"H . . . T . . . M . . . P . . . F . . . S . . . C," she muttered. "Yes. We're ready."

Georgina chuckled before I could ask about the letters. "Each one is a reminder," she said. "H, for example, means check the harness, or safety belt. The others, in turn, mean check trim, mixture, pressure, fuel, switches and controls."

Just before take-off, Georgina explained what she would do. "I'll just neutralize the stick and push the throttle right in. The tail will rise, and gradually we'll gain enough speed to leave the ground. Then I'll pull the stick back to put the plane into a climbing 'attitude'."

"As simple as that?"

"Yes. Ready?"

I nodded. "To Pat Bay tower . . . Cessna HBF . . . clear to take off," said Georgina, and I watched her hands hold the stick firmly, her eyes fix steadily on the strip. This was it.

I pinched my eyes shut and clutched the seat, anticipating a jolt into space. It didn't come off. So I opened my eyes to find that we were high above the airport, gliding over treetops and fields.

We climbed to 500 feet, made a left turn and continued to climb to 700 feet, after another left turn putting us parallel with the strip, we continued to gain altitude, and Georgina notified the tower we were clear of the strip.

Higher we climbed, to 1,500 feet, then to 2,000. As we circled the practice area, Georgina told me we travelled 80 miles per hour as we climbed, and 100 miles per hour as we levelled off.

Police Reject Overtime Offer At Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Spokesmen for the Police-Federal Union (TLC) said Tuesday night that Vancouver's 750-man force has rejected the police commission's offer on accumulative overtime and the possibility of overtime allowance for officers who temporarily forego weekly days off.

The commission offered to pay $1.50 an hour for the 24.00 hours of overtime owing to officers. The union will speak to a conciliation officer Thursday.

Visibility was not as good as it might have been . . . yet Mount Baker, Brentwood Bay, the town of Sidney and Elk Lake all molded into a panorama that was breathtaking.

NO COMPARISON

You really cannot compare the experience of flying in an airplane with the sensation of flying in a light plane, it's so different.

Finally, with permission from the control tower, we made our landing.

"In a small plane," said Georgina, "you take a 'gliding' approach, which means the engine is idle." "How much to learn to fly?" was my first question.

"About $250," Georgina told me. "Spread that over approximately a year of training and the cost is relatively small. Ordinarily it would cost $350, but the government subsidizes it to the extent of $100 . . . that is, if you pass the final examination."

"Once a flyer earns his license, he pays $9 per hour for solo flying," she told me. Georgina Watchorn maintains that the flyer pays no more for his sport than an avid golfer, skier, or yachtsman.

What I can't understand is why there are no more than three women among the 201 members of the flying club. Besides Miss Watchorn, there are Eleanor Coward and Georgina Booth. Both PWA stewardesses. Of the club's 52 students there are also only three women . . . Gloria Nyberg, a student at Victoria College; Valerie Bate, local stenographer, and Cynthia Ball, a nurse from Bermuda.

And you never know . . . the next name on the roll may be that of a Victoria Daily Times reporter.

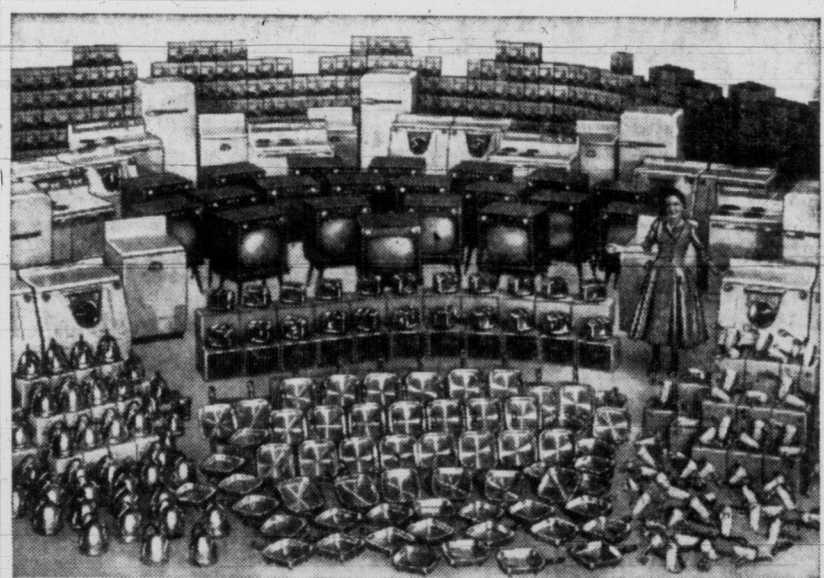

"FASTEN YOUR SAFETY BELT, PLEASE," smiles school teacher pilot Georgina Watchorn to Times reporter Kitty Dixon who found small-plane flying exhilarating. (Times photo.)

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

DISTRICT NOTES—Scouters . . . If your Scouts are going to billet some of the Queen's Scouts coming to Victoria for the presentations, let district headquarters know as soon as possible, so that arrangements can be made with provincial headquarters.

PARKDALE TROOP—At the regular meeting the troop made visits to four "ham" radio stations, receiving instructions on how the sets work and listening in to various parts of the country. They were shown how a 20-watt set is dismantled and re-assembled. On Sunday, leader R. King took some of the boys out to Coal Creek, Sooke, to inspect camping sites for the summer camp.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE GROUP held a parents' night recently. The Cubs and Scouts, under Scouters P. Hamilton, R. Cheek, J. Aitken and D. Hepslow, put on a program of Cub and Scout work. The guests were welcomed by C. Stone, vice-president of the local group. The Sea Scouts put on a demonstration of rescue work with a boat's chair. The Cubs put on a jungle play. Refreshments were served by the ladies of the committee.

THIRD VICTORIA GROUP—On Friday the Cubs and Scouts were shown the official Canadian jamboree film. Parents and friends, and the Chinese Troop, also attended.

The film was donated to the Boy Scouts of Canada by the Eaton Co. It is an excellent showing of boys of all nations in action and playing together. It shows a part of the greatest airlift of a non-military nature that has ever been attempted. The Scouts were thrilled with

CENTENNIAL OMISSION PROTESTED BY LANGLEY

LANGLEY (CP)—Lack of Fraser Valley representation on B.C.'s Centennial Committee has brought a protest from Langley Board of Trade.

The board asked Premier Bennett to appoint a representative for New Westminster and the Fraser Valley.

Mayor E. E. Sendall of Langley told the Board of Trade installation banquet Tuesday that Langley played an important part in the early history of the province and should be considered in Centennial celebration plans.

He said Fort Langley was the first white settlement on the west coast mainland and site of the first provincial capital.

Westinghouse Strike Ends After 156 Days

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Westinghouse Electric Corp. strike, one of the longest in modern American labor history, is over. Strikers weary of picketing idle plants for 156 days headed back to work today.

The dispute, punctuated at times by violence, probably cost hundreds of millions of dollars in lost wages and business.

Settlement came Tuesday night when the striking International Union of Electrical Workers voted to accept a peace plan proposed two weeks ago by government mediators but changed somewhat in the union's favor since then.

Strike Ordered In Kootenay Mine Dispute

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—Sixty-five miners, surface and mill men of Yale Lead and Zinc Mines Ltd.'s Ainsworth operation on Kootenay Lake, 30 miles northeast of here, were scheduled to strike today.

The strike action was decided on by International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers when negotiations for a new agreement with the company broke down. A majority conciliation board report accepted by the company recommended continuation of a 44-hour week, a five-cent-an-hour pay increase and additional paid statutory holidays. Minority report called for a 40-hour week and 12-cent-an-hour pay increase, a drop from the original demand of about 19 cents. Miners' pay at present has been $1.90 per day.

Yale Lead and Zinc ore production has been running at 5,500 tons a month.

Oak Bay Firemen Get $305 a Month

Wage increases have been granted firemen in Oak Bay and Saanich but settlement of the Victoria firemen's contract will be referred to a conciliation board.

Oak Bay firefighters have been granted a 5 per cent wage boost following appointment last week of a conciliation officer. First-class firemen will now be paid a basic rate of $305 monthly with fringe benefits.

A new differential of $40 has been approved for the assistant fire chief and a $20 differential for lieutenants.

In Saanich an increase of 2½ per cent was granted, plus four additional paid statutory holidays, and a 1½ per cent increase next year. The union now has 10 paid holidays besides annual leave.

Victoria firemen, who asked a 9.7 per cent increase, will be bound by decision of a conciliation board by recommendation of a conciliation officer appointed last week. The city has offered the same increase of 1.9 per cent this year and 1.75 per cent in 1957, as was granted inside staff. Present salaries range from $239 to $313.

Level-Crossing Crash Kills Three in Ontario

BELLEVILLE, Ont. (CP)—Three persons were killed Tuesday when their car was struck by a diesel engine at a nearby level crossing.

Dead are Stewart Lasher, 27, of Belleville; his daughter, Brenda, 5, and his 12-year-old brother, Carl, of Ameliasburg, Ont. Police said a westbound Canadian National Railway engine sliced into the old model car at a crossing two miles west of here.

Easter Bunny Cake

Every self-respecting Easter bunny enjoys fresh carrots, even when he is only a marshmallow bunny sitting on top of a beautiful white cake. Well, believe it or not, here is an Easter cake recipe using fresh carrots as one of the ingredients.

EASTER BUNNY CAKE

Sift 3 cups cake flour, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 2 teaspoons salt, 3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder and 1/4 teaspoon soda together into a mixing bowl. Blend in 1/4 teaspoon grated lime rind and 2 teaspoons grated orange rind. Add 1 cup shortening, 1 cup dry mashed cooked carrots and 2 eggs. Beat 2 minutes, at low speed, by hand or with an electric beater. Add 1 more egg and 3 tablespoons milk. Beat 2 more minutes. Pour batter into two well-greased, lightly floured, 9-inch round layer cake pans. Bake 30 minutes or until done in a preheated moderate oven (375 degrees F.). Cool 10 minutes in pans. Turn out onto wire racks to finish cooling. Frost with Sea Foam Frosting. Decorate with Easter Bunnies made with fresh marshmallows pinched at one end for the tail and at the other for the head. Make eyes and nose in the face with a toothpick dipped in melted chocolate. Cut ears from pink writing paper and insert in top of the head. Arrange around the edges of the cake.

SEA FOAM FROSTING

YIELD: 12 TO 16 SERVINGS
Combine 2 egg whites with 1 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice, 1 tablespoon fresh orange juice and 1 tablespoon water, in the top of a double-boiler. Place over rapidly boiling water. Beat with an electric beater or by hand, at full speed, 7 minutes or until mixture stands in soft peaks. Remove from heat and beat until stiff peaks are formed. Blend in 3 drops yellow vegetable coloring and 1/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind. Spread between two 9-inch layer cakes and over top and sides. (Yield: Sufficient frosting for tops and sides of two 9-inch layers.)

Baked Succotash Like Country Cooking

Succotash suggests the good country cooking we all have about. To enjoy its flavor wherever you are, prepare this simple baked dish: To a can of succotash, add a tablespoon of chopped onion browned in butter. Put in a baking dish, sprinkling with a fourth cup poultry bread dressing. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about 35 minutes.

Waiting Outside

IPSWITCH, England (CP) — Eric Hagman, summoned to court for overtime parking, told magistrates he was "baby-sitting in the car while my wife was shopping." He was fined £1.

Thin slices of turkey, tomato and summer avocado, served open-face style on whole wheat bread, is a most delicious knife and fork sandwich.

Delicate marshmallows provide the rabbit faces for this bunny cake. And what a surprise ingredient—mashed carrots.

Spice-Nut Sponge Cake Is a Lenten Favorite

One box sponge cake mix, 1/4 cup Concord grape wine, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon ginger, 6 eggs, 1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts.

Separate the eggs. Allow to reach room temperature. Beat egg yolks and wine together until pale and fluffy (2 minutes at high speed on an electric mixer). Mix the spices with the sponge cake mix until smooth (1/4 to 1/2 minutes at medium speed on an electric mixer). Beat egg whites until stiff enough to form a firm peak. Fold beaten whites and chopped nuts carefully into the batter until no unmixed whites are visible. Pour into ungreased 9-inch tube pan and bake in a moderate oven (340 degrees F.) one hour and ten minutes. Remove from oven and invert pan until cake is cool. Loosen sides with a straight knife and remove from pan.

Scalloped Seafood Delight

Everyone is pleased when lobster or crab appears on the table. Here is a recipe in which either may be used in a quick-to-do scalloped casserole. Combine a can of lobster or crab meat with a tablespoon of lemon juice and a dash of Worcestershire sauce. Fold into a cup of rich cream sauce. Place in individual baking dishes and top with buttered crumbs. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees) about 15 minutes, until crumbs are brown. Then m-m-m! What a delightful eating!

Spiced Raisin Pie

One and one-half cups light or dark raisins, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 5 tablespoons sugar, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon mace, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1 1/2 cups water, pastry for double 9-inch crust.
Rinse and drain raisins; blend well with cornstarch, salt, sugar and spices. Add lemon juice, butter and water, bring to boil and boil about 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Pour into pastry-lined pan and cover with top crust. Bake in very hot oven (450 degrees F.) about 25 minutes. Cool before cutting. Makes 1 (8-inch) pie.

Make Use Of Sour Cream

Fresh asparagus is one of the blessings of spring. Let's enjoy it.

FRESH ASPARAGUS WITH SOUR CREAM SAUCE

Wash 2 pounds of fresh asparagus and cut off the tough bottom ends. Tie stalks in bunches and stand them in the bottom part of a double boiler. Sprinkle with 1/2 teaspoon salt and pour in 1 1/2 inches boiling water. Cover with inverted top of double boiler. Cook 20 minutes or until tender, lifting the cover 3 or 4 times. Yield: 6 servings.

SOUR CREAM SAUCE

Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in a saucepan. Blend in 2 tablespoons flour. Gradually stir in 1 cup sour cream. Cook until medium thickness, stirring constantly. Add 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/16 teaspoon ground black pepper. Garnish with fresh parsley.

Served cold, as a salad, with vinaigrette sauce, fresh asparagus gives an Easter dinner extra delicacy. Yield: 1 cup.

VINAIGRETTE SAUCE

One teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, few grains pepper, 1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar, 2 tablespoons cider vinegar, 6 tablespoons olive oil, 1 tablespoon chopped green pepper, 1 tablespoon chopped cucumber pickle, 1 teaspoon finely chopped parsley, 1 teaspoon finely chopped chives. Combine ingredients. Vary as desired.

Pantry Shelf

When you pack lunches for children to take to school, be sure to include some fruit with every lunch. Such fruits as plump prunes, fresh from their cartons or cellophane wraps, would be a good choice. They're highly concentrated in natural sugar, vitamins and minerals.

Thread firm cooked pitted prunes, pieces of canned cling peach halves and chunks of not-too-ripe banana on small skewers. Dip in melted butter and charcoal-broil along with whatever meat you're barbecuing. The fruit kebabs make an attractive edible garnish.

Make this tasty sandwich filling with a single left-over hot dog from last night's barbecue. Chop the hot dog and combine with a chopped hard-boiled egg, 6 or 8 ripe olives cut into pieces and some mayonnaise. Extra good on pumpernickel bread.

Start the day right with a bowl of cereal and some cooked prunes. Select your favorite cooked or packaged cereal, top with half a dozen cooked prunes, add milk or half and half, and you're off to a good nutritious breakfast.

Human Touch

CALGARY (CP) — Teachers must put some glamour and adventure into their Canadian history classes if they want enthusiastic students, says school teacher Winifred Lochte. She told a teachers' convention that Canadian history is packed with romance, adventure and drama.

Crisp celery, diced process Canadian cheese, sliced green onion and green pepper strips go well with cooked large dry limas in a hearty salad. Dress with well-seasoned mayonnaise and garnish with sliced radishes.

Montreal Woman Leads An All-Male Orchestra

MONTREAL (CP) — Leading a co-operative that she chose "I'll Get By" as the band's theme song, Miss Neilson has the added distinction of directing an all-male orchestra.

The attractive brunette has been leading her 11-man band for more than four years and has "never had any trouble with the boys." Miss Neilson finds her players so chestra and five years later left to form her own band. "I didn't have any difficulty getting men to play for me," she said, "but it was quite a struggle getting established as a leader." One of her greatest thrills was to play at a dance given in honor of Lieutenant-Governor Gaspard Fautoux. Miss Neilson has no preference when it comes to music. She likes it all, "from boogie to symphony."

Build a Spring Salad Round Fresh Mushrooms and Greens

This is the giddy season because spring begins today. A New Yorker noted for his interest in food comes up with a "giddy" salad suggestion. His name is Fred Smith and his salad idea, though different, is really delicious and refreshing.

FRESH MUSHROOM SALAD

One pound fresh mushrooms, 1 cup diced celery, inner stalks, 1 hard-cooked egg, 2 or 3 tiny sweet pickles, finely diced.

Remove stems from caps and use as an addition to any soup or sauce. Skin (do not peel) mushroom caps and slice cross-wise into thin slices. Place slices in deep bowl. Pour on marinade described below and cover with lid. Place in refrigerator for at least 30 minutes; longer is fine. Stir occasionally.

MARINADE

One-half cup salad oil, 5 tablespoons wine vinegar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, generous amount freshly ground black pepper, dash tabasco.

To serve: drain off marinade, pile into centre of glass salad bowl lined with celery or lettuce hearts. Add more of the pepper and pimento strips.

The welcome green of spring gives fresh mushroom salad a compelling eye-appeal. And serve this salad very cold.

SHAWVILLE, Que. (CP)—With more than a century to ponder over, Mrs. Mary Riley still thinks the old days were as good as they're reported to have been. They might even have an edge on modern times.

Mrs. Riley, who celebrated her 106th birthday here early in March, believes people today are spending too much money and not getting their money's worth of good times. Believed the oldest resident of Quebec, she lives in this community 40 miles northwest of Ottawa with her daughter, Gertrude Riley.

Although Mrs. Riley doesn't talk on the telephone, her daughter answered questions, familiar with the philosophy of her centenarian-plus mother.

On Mrs. Riley's birthday more than 180 visitors, including members of the family from as far away as Fort William and Toronto came to offer congratulations.

She commanded the occasion from early afternoon until 11 o'clock in the evening. She received 10 birthday cakes and gifts of every description.

A special treat for the guest of honor was some "home-made" music provided by visiting musicians. It was much better, she thought, than the music produced in the "wooden god"—her description of a radio.

Still in fairly good health, Mrs. Riley has never spent a day in hospital and is seldom ill. She was attended at home when she cracked her hip 10 years ago and when she suffered three fractured ribs in a fall last year.

She spends most of her sitting-up hours in a comfortable rocking chair. Last year, Miss Riley said, her mother was able to get around without any help. Now she needs a strong arm for support.

GOOD MEMORY

Occasionally she helps wash dishes. She eats and sleeps well. Her memory is still clear and she enjoys talking about pioneer days when a trip to Ottawa meant a three-day horse and buggy ride. Those old days, she feels, were more friendly when persons rarely strayed far from home.

Born in a log cabin near Shaw-ville 17 years before Confederation Mrs. Riley thinks modern women have an easier lot than pioneer housewives. Electricity and light kitchen utensils to replace heavy iron pots are popular with her.

On the other hand, she dislikes airplanes and has no desire to fly. A popular and cheerful member of her community, Mrs. Riley this year helped officially open a Shawville service club's Easter Seal campaign.

For the last six years she has cut a ribbon to open the Shawville Fair. As a girl of 6, she attended Shawville's first fair. In a century, she has missed only eight of the annual attractions—during the years she and her husband, James Riley, lived at Mattawa, Ont., some 145 miles west of the capital.

Members of her family, along with her daughter, include a son, Thomas, a monument maker in Arnprior, some 33 miles west of Ottawa. She has 13 grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren.

She also has a recipe for longevity. It includes mixing plenty of good food, hard work and walking, with a simple life.

Raisin Bran Muffins

You'll have no trouble getting the teenagers to eat breakfast when there are raisin bran muffins on the table! Sweet raisins make muffins a special treat. A trick for speeding the wheels of progress on busy mornings is to measure dry ingredients the night before, get out pans, and have them ready and greased. Hot breads are no trick at all with that much done ahead.

One cup light or dark raisins, 1 cup bran cereal, 1 cup milk, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons melted shortening, 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt. Rinse and drain raisins. Soak bran in milk five minutes. Add lightly beaten egg, shortening and raisins. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt, and add all at once to first mixture, stirring only to moisten. Fill greased muffin pans about two-thirds full. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 12 to 15 medium-sized muffins.

Hot 'n' Hearty Lima Salad

Like hot German-style potato salad? Then you'll like this "Hot 'n' Hearty Lima Salad." It's made with large dry limas, to which diced ham, celery, hard-boiled eggs and onion are added, and combined with a wonderful sweet-sour dressing. Just the dish for a cool, blustery March evening.

One cup California large dry limas, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup diced cooked ham, 1/2 cup thinly sliced celery, 2 diced hard-boiled eggs, 1 thinly sliced green onion.

Dressing: 1 egg yolk, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 tablespoon brown sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, dash cayenne pepper, 3 tablespoons vinegar, 1/2 cup water.

Rinse limas, add boiling water to cover and boil two minutes. Cover and let stand one hour. Add salt and boil gently until tender (1 to 1 1/2 hours). Drain and combine with remaining ingredients. Add hot dressing and mix lightly. Serve at once.

Dressing: Beat egg yolk lightly and combine with remaining ingredients. Cook and stir over very low heat until thickened. Makes four to five servings.

Bologna cups with cheese and limas are a tasty hot lunch for children when they come home from school. Lightly brown slices of bologna in butter until edges curl. Fill with hot, cooked California large dry limas, mixed with a grated cheese and evaporated milk sauce. Season with Worcester-shire sauce.

Woman's Fingers Keep World's Children Clothed

SOURIS, Man. (CP)—The clothes sewn by Mrs. C. E. Goodburn are keeping children warm in many distant places.

For the last four years the prolific seamstress has been sending parcels of sewing to the Red Cross centre at Winnipeg for distribution throughout the world.

Last year she sent in 11 such parcels. The list reads like an inventory of a children's clothing store: 15 skirts, 85 blouses, 65 tunics, 40 tunic dresses, 15 nightgowns, 80 pantie dresses, 30 pairs of knickers, 60 boys' shirts, 40 pairs of underpants, 59 pairs of short pants, 85 pairs of overalls, 130 baby vests, 13 baby dresses and five pairs of pyjamas.

Scarcely a shipment has left the Red Cross workshop in Winnipeg in the last seven years without some of Mrs. Goodburn's work in it.

Mrs. Goodburn began sewing and knitting for the Red Cross during the Second World War. The clothes sewn by Mrs. C. E. Goodburn are keeping children warm in many distant places.

Since that time she has made more than 5,000 garments, enough to clothe almost completely 1,000 girls, 540 boys and 400 babies.

Mrs. Goodburn works on an assembly-line basis. Taking up the pieces of 10 of the same garments, she completes one stage of work off each. Then she moves on to the next step and ends up with 10 articles finished at one time. She does not work at any special time; but when she feels like it. She does the hand-sewing while listening to her favorite radio programs.

Mrs. Goodburn's reward is the satisfaction of knowing that children throughout the world are sheltered from the sun or icy cold by the clothing she has made.

Tuna, Rice and Cheese Combine for Main Dish

Mary McMeekin, of Louisville, Kentucky, serves a special meatless main dish called Flemish Rice. Substantial, it is garnished with sliced tomatoes. Here it is for your tables:

FLEMISH RICE

Three cups cooked rice, 1 1/2 ounce can chunk style tuna fish, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 2 cups cheese sauce, 2 or 3 fresh tomatoes, melted butter or margarine, salt, pepper.

To make 3 heaping cups of white, perfectly cooked rice: put 1 cup uncooked rice, 2 cups cold water and 1 teaspoon salt into a 2-quart saucepan and bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover the saucepan with a lid. Do not remove lid or stir rice while it is cooking. Leave saucepan over this low heat for 14 minutes. Turn heat off. The rice is now ready to use.

However, leave the cover on the saucepan to keep the rice warm if you are not ready to use it immediately. For extra fluffy, tender, separate grains—allow the rice to steam for an additional 10 minutes with heat off, but without removing lid.

CHEESE SAUCE

One-quarter cup butter or margarine, 1/4 cup flour, 2 cups milk, 1 cup grated American cheese, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper.

Over a low heat or in top of a double boiler, melt the butter or margarine. Blend in the flour. Add milk gradually and cook, stirring constantly until sauce thickens. Add cheese, salt and pepper. Stir until cheese has melted.

Place a layer of 1/2 of the

PINEAPPLE BUTTERSCOTCH SQUARES

1/4 cup walnuts, 1 (No. 1) flat can crushed pineapple, 1/4 cup butter or margarine, 1 cup brown sugar (packed), 1 egg, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1/4 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, whipped cream.

Chop walnuts coarsely. Drain pineapple thoroughly. Melt butter and stir in sugar. Cool to lukewarm. Add unbeaten egg and vanilla, and beat thoroughly. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together, and blend into first mixture. Stir in walnuts and pineapple. Turn into greased 8-inch square pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 40 to 45 minutes. Cool in pan. Cut into squares, and serve topped with whipped cream. Makes 6 to 9 servings.

cooked rice into a greased casserole. Add 1/2 of the tuna fish and sprinkle with 1 tablespoon of the chopped onion. Pour over this 1/2 of the cheese sauce. Repeat these 3 layers. Add final layer of rice and top with the cheese sauce.

Cut the tomatoes into thick slices. Place them on the top of the casserole. Brush the tomatoes with melted butter or margarine and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake at 350 degrees F. (moderate oven) for 30 minutes. (6 servings.)

Pantry Shelf

Chopped roasted almonds and fresh dates make an excellent filling for old-fashioned filled cookies. They're the kind of dessert children love to find in school lunches.

Creamed chipped beef with a few tablespoons Sherry wine stirred into the sauce and some slivered roasted almonds sprinkled over the top is indeed a party dish. Serve over toasted, split English muffins.

A handsome meringue-topped, canned peach pie makes a most delightful dessert. Pour the cooked peach custard filling into a flaky baked shell. Top with swirls of meringue and bake until golden.

Melt a cup of semi-sweet chocolate pieces and combine with a cup of sieved-cooked prunes. Fold the mixture into one cup of heavy cream, whipped, and you'll have one of the most elegant prune whips on record. Pile the whip into sherbert glasses and chill before serving.

Take a cup of your favorite oil and vinegar French dressing and combine it with a quarter cup chopped chutney for an exciting dressing to serve over Calavo avocado crescents. You'll find plenty of round, thick-skinned summer avocados in the markets as well as the more familiar pear-shaped ones.

Fill bakery cup cakes with vanilla pudding made from mix and cover generously with well-drained canned fruit cocktail. At dessert time top with a puff of whipped cream and some finely chopped walnuts.

Turn Cupcakes Into Easter Baskets

Gay, springlike, and a decoration for the Easter table, cupcake baskets are a tradition in many families. Children love them.

They are made from chocolate-flavored cupcakes, which are covered with fluffy white frosting. Shredded coconut, tinted green, is used for the "nest"; varicolored jelly beans are the miniature eggs. Only the basket handle is inedible—it is a pipe cleaner.

EASTER BASKETS

Two cups sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon soda, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup shortening, $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups granulated sugar, or $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups firmly packed brown sugar, 2 eggs, unbeaten, 3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted, milk (see below for amount), 1 teaspoon vanilla.

With butter, margarine, or lard, use 1 cup milk. With vegetable or any other shortening, use 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons milk.

Sift flour once measure, add soda and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each. Add chocolate and blend. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla; blend. Spoon batter into paper baking cups, set in muffin pans, filling only half full. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes, or until done. Cool. Frost with fluffy white frosting. Sprinkle top of cakes with shredded coconut, tinted green. Place jelly beans in centre of each "basket." Use a pipe cleaner for the handle, insert each end into the cupcake.

(Makes about two dozen "baskets.")

TINTED COCONUT

To tint coconut, place coconut in a glass jar. (Do not fill jar more than $\frac{1}{2}$ full). Dilute a few drops of food coloring in 1 teaspoon of water or milk, and sprinkle over coconut. Cover jar and shake vigorously until coloring is evenly distributed and desired shade is obtained.

Heavenly Fluff

1 9-inch pie shell, baked; 4 egg yolks, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons grated lemon peel, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup fresh lemon juice, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon plain gelatin, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup cold water, 4 egg whites, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup whipping cream, coconut.

Beat egg yolks slightly, add salt, lemon peel, lemon juice and $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar. Cook over hot water until thick (about 5 minutes). Remove from heat. Add gelatin soaked in $\frac{1}{4}$ cup cold water. Stir until dissolved. Cool. Beat egg whites until stiff and add $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar gradually; beat 1 minute longer. Fold into cooked mixture. Whip cream and fold in. Pile lightly into cooked, cooled 9-inch pie shell. Sprinkle with coconut.

Soup of the Month: Creole Gumbo

Perfect soup-of-the-month to feature at your house is condensed Creole Gumbo Soup. It's sure to satisfy all those special interests: youngsters bringing hungry appetites home from school at noon, dad looking for something hot in his thermos bottle, or mom hurrying to prepare an appetizing meal. The mixture of vegetables in Creole Gumbo Soup is seasoned with just the right touch of Southern creole flavor, and it's bound to become a family favorite if it isn't one already.

Pantry Shelf

Dissolve a package of lemon-flavored gelatin in 1 cup very hot canned peach syrup and water mixed half and half. Stir in a tablespoon lemon juice and $\frac{2}{3}$ cup Sauterne or other white table wine and chill until partially set. Then fold in canned cling peaches and chill until firm. It makes a tasty salad to serve with the meat course.

Fresh dates are an excellent between meal snack. Include them often in the school lunches you pack. These non-sticky dates are easy to pack and delicious to eat.

Mold grapefruit sections and sliced, pitted fresh California dates in a lime gelatin souffle salad base when you're looking for something special in the way of make-ahead dinner salad.

Here's a tasty hors d'oeuvre, easy to make and popular to eat. Cut canned luncheon meat into $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch cubes and stick each with a toothpick. Serve with a dunking mixture of mashed avocado seasoned with mayonnaise, catsup, vinegar, salt and onion. Use the thick-skinned summer avocados for making this dunk.

EATON'S A-GLITTER

Store Unveils New Methods

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
Times Business Editor

The T. Eaton Company of Canada today unveiled in its Victoria store what it considers the most modern system of display and department store merchandising in Canada.

Live flamingoes—especially flown here from sunny Florida, and housed in a front window setting of springtime blooms and Japanese plum trees—were among the many eye-catchers used to draw attention to the completion of a five-year reconstruction program which has transformed the entire lower floor.

This afternoon the rearranged, refurnished, relighted floor was being inspected by civic and business leaders invited to a reception given by the management. They include Mayor Percy Scarr, members of the city council, reeves of municipalities, bank managers, post office and customs officials and representatives of press and radio.

Thursday morning the public will have their first view of the completely modernized store in which every modern device has been used to give them comfort and convenience.

The modern trend in store-keeping is to arrange your merchandise in such a way that nothing, not even a slender black glove or a quiet tie, will be hidden from view.

Daylight Feature

And the newer store, with skilful lighting, makes it possible for you to tell the true color of a garment without taking it out into the daylight. For the tendency is to make artificial light as much like daylight as possible.

The lighting, a blend of fluorescent and incandescent, closely resembles daylight, enabling you to see every article on sale in its true colors.

Even the pillars connecting floor and ceiling have been designed to avoid discoloring merchandise. They are covered with a cotton-backed plastic, soft grey in color, that eliminates distortion of color by reflection.

Seen at Glance

The see-what-you-want idea has been sustained throughout. In the men's store, for instance, 1,500 ties are displayed on one counter. The shelves are staggered, one a little behind the other, so that every pattern can be seen at a glance.

Socks, shirts, scarves and hats are arranged in the same fashion. Stock cupboards are located immediately underneath the shelves so that the shelves can be quickly and easily restocked.

And there are spacious stockrooms behind each counter from which the stock cupboards can be speedily refilled. Employees as well as customers appreciate this arrangement.

"I can remember the time when you had to leave your display for 20 minutes while you walked to a stockroom at the other end of the store," one of the older salesmen told me.

Lengthy Project

Reconstruction of the main floor has been carried out under the supervision of William Gilmour, manager of the Victoria store since it was opened in 1948.

In the years since, Mr. Gilmour has made a careful study of modern trends in merchandising and worked closely with H. G. D. Lee, Eaton's construction supervisor in B.C., in bringing the store up to its present standard.

"Our customers and staff have contributed all kinds of useful suggestions," Mr. Gilmour said, "and many of them have been incorporated in the remodeling of the main floor."

"This is a new venture in shopping convenience and it makes us not only part of the largest store enterprise in the British Commonwealth but one of the most modern in the group."

Flown From Florida

The flamingoes from Florida were flown to New York and on to Seattle. From there they traveled by station wagon to Stanley Park where they were temporarily housed in the zoological gardens.

On Tuesday they were flown by TCA over to Victoria, and the temperature in Eaton's windows was raised to 60 degrees so that the birds would not suffer from what is sometimes called spring weather.

Crowds gathered outside Eaton's windows this morning when the blinds were raised and the flamingoes were seen strutting around their improvised Oriental garden.

Thursday, visitors to the main floor will be able to look over $500,000 worth of diamond-set jewelry.

Star of the show is a diamond known as the Golden Pear which is valued at more than $250,000—half the value of the whole display—and is said to have once belonged to an eastern king.

It is hard to believe that the newly-modernized Eaton store has grown out of two of Victoria's oldest buildings—the Victoria Theatre and the Driford Hotel, which dates from 1862.

Yet as you wander up to the restaurant you may see traces of Victoria's Victorian architecture blending quaintly with the new.

Mt. View Winners

Mount View High School won the Greater Victoria High School senior girls' basketball tournament and the Hocking Cup. Tuesday, posting four straight victories at Mount View gym.

Mount View defeated Esquimalt High, Mt. Douglas, Victoria High and Oak Bay High in the round-robin tournament. Esquimalt was second with three wins and one

New Business Centre To Cost $1.5 Million

Former Pearce Estate Site of New Project

A "new shopping village," which could mean investment by interested merchants of more than $1,500,000, is being planned for an eight-acre site in the 1600-block, Fort Street.

The area is across the street from the Safeway store near the Oak Bay Junction.

Benjamin William Pearce, first surveyor-general of B.C., built the stone mansion, "Fernwood," there in 1860. The purchase of the property for an undisclosed price was announced today by Milton King and associates of King Realty.

"We visualize ultimately a complete shopping village. When our plans are further advanced, we would like to accommodate as many local merchants as possible," said Mr. King.

Progress of the development still hinges on zoning, and other matters to be worked out at city hall.

Colwood Development Plan Approved

Colwood and District Chamber of Commerce has voted approval of a plan to take over and develop the old Colwood race track property for exhibitions, horse racing and other sporting and community projects.

A special committee has been named to begin negotiations. The 30-acre site is at present held by the department of national defence, but Defence Minister Ralph Campney indicated recently it could be released for private use.

Publicity chairman for the new chamber, W. C. Barratt, said a general meeting of the chamber had endorsed fully the suggestion for the development and "... further steps are being taken to bring it about."

He said it was impossible to outline the negotiations at this time.

It was learned the provisional executive of the chamber, headed by Aubrey Jenkins, already has written Mr. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, MP for the district, asking his aid in obtaining a first-refusal agreement with the government with respect to the property.

B.C. Agricultural Association also is trying to obtain the site for similar development. The association holds a Class A fair charter and the two organizations may work together on the project.

$20,000 Gift For Organ Restoration

A $20,000 anonymous donation has been received by Dean Brian Whitlow of Christ Church Cathedral to rebuild and restore the present 84-year-old organ. The donation means start, though unofficial as yet, of a campaign for a new organ. When rebuilt, the new organ will incorporate features of the present organ, including 80 per cent of the organ pipes.

The present organ, said organist Graham Steed whom the Victoria donor first approached with his benefaction, was built in England in 1872 and was in the second Christ Church Cathedral here before being moved to the present church edifice in 1929.

The cathedral's organ committee is now expected to start a drive for early re-building of the organ, termed "inadequate" by Mr. Steed. Breakdowns have been frequent, forcing choristers to sing without accompaniment.

ASK THE TIMES

Q—I have tried, but failed, to get into contact with the old-age pensioners' associations of Victoria. Will you please give me the information?—R.M.A.

A—Victoria Area Pensioners' Association No. 3, whose president is Harold E. Ker and secretary R. H. Hancox, meets in the Britannia Legion Hall the first Tuesday in each month. The Old-Age Pensioners of B.C. No. 5 has W. R. Hunter of 3 Glebe Terrace as its secretary. The Veteran Non-Pensioned Widows' Association, Victoria branch, is the beneficiary of two concerts each year organized by Harold E. Ker as master of ceremonies. The spring show will be put on April 28.

Q—When was Regina incorporated?—V.A.

A—It became a city in 1903. It was chosen capital of the new Province of Saskatchewan in 1905 by the first legislature.

BETWEEN TIMES By MONTE ROBERTS

Golfers have troubles which extend even beyond shanked irons, small pebbles on the green in front of the hole, and wives who want them to cut the lawn.

As witness this transcript from a recent court case, in which the plaintiff sued the defendant for assault.

Judge: Have you anything to say, defendant?
Defendant: May it please the court, I plead extreme justification.

Judge: Did plaintiff cough whilst you were putting? Did he take four strokes in the rough and say he had killed a snake? Did he "accidentally" tramp on your ball?

Defendant: Worst than that, Judge.
Judge: Worst than that? Tell me all.

Defendant: The plaintiff and I have been golfing opponents for many years. Yesterday, he couldn't make it to the golf course. Some nonsense about work piled up at the office.

Judge: A ridiculous excuse.

Defendant: Precisely. But I managed to pick up another friend to play with, and defendant promised to meet me at the course after the round.

Counsel for Plaintiff: Your honor, I object to this long and rambling discourse.

Judge: Do you play golf?

Counsel for Plaintiff: Well, no, your honor, I prefer croquet.

Judge: Objection overruled. Continue, defendant.

Defendant: Well, Judge, I want to tell you, this was one of those days when everything was clicking. Easy on the backswing, follow through like so, chip shots clicking...

Judge: Everything nice and crisp, eh?

Defendant: Exactly. Well, I'd like to tell you about a recovery I made on the dog-leg 12th... but I'd better stick to the subject.

Counsel for Plaintiff: Your honor, I object to this digression.

Judge (wistfully): You should have seen the four iron I played from behind the greenskeeper's shack back in '41... or was it '39... but never mind, objection sustained. Come to the point, defendant.

Defendant: It was my drive on the 18th which led up to this ridiculous charge, Judge. On the 18th, I wound up and hit one on the nose.

Judge: A smackeroo, eh?

Defendant: A whing-ding daddy, Judge. I pulled the string on it, Judge, and when that little white pellet had finished rolling, it was 285 yards from take-off point!

Judge: I can remember one I hit back in '43—or was it '37—but never mind. Proceed.

Defendant: Naturally, as soon as I holed out, I hurried to the clubhouse, to tell my pal—er, the plaintiff—all about that drive.

Judge: And what did he do? Congratulate you?

Defendant (almost breaking down under the strain): He said: "I've been talking to your caddy, and I know all about it. On the 18th you pulled out your three wood by mistake, lifted the ball 100 feet in the air, where it was caught by a 75-mile-an-hour tail wind, sailed into a tree, bounced off, and rolled in front of the green. From where," the plaintiff said, "you took six strokes to hole out."

Counsel for the Plaintiff: I object.

Judge: I object to your objection. THEN what did you do, defendant?

Defendant: Why, I beat the plaintiff about the ears with a golf club.

Judge: What club did you use?

Defendant: A seven iron.

Judge: Hmmmm. A sand wedge is more to be recommended under the circumstances. But still... case dismissed.

In addition, the department has recently hired about 30 engineering aides who will make up survey crews. Another dozen civil engineering students will join the department to take over junior supervisory jobs.

The minister said there is still a need for more resident engineers.

Chinese Want To Sell Cemetery Site

Victoria Chinese Benevolent Association has offered to sell Oak Bay's old cemetery on the point below Gonzales Hill for park development, Reeve F. E. Norris said today.

The municipality has advised the organization it is not interested since legal investigation makes the deal appear impossible.

No record has been found showing whether the land ever was dedicated as a cemetery. It has been in operation on the promontory called Harling Point since before Oak Bay was incorporated.

Oak Bay legal advisers have been unable to learn whether the land could be purchased legally or whether surface characteristics could be altered for park use if such a deal were effected.

Reeve Norris said the offer was made by the association as a means of raising funds for purchase of a new parcel of land for cemetery use in another area.

It was learned at city hall recently the benevolent association is interested in obtaining a section of the city-owned Elk Lake Game Farm for that purpose.

Eight Seeking Chief Engineer Post in B.C.

Eight applications are being considered for the provincial government's top engineering job, Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi said today.

The chief engineer's post was left vacant by the recent resignation of Neil McCallum, who has accepted a position in private industry.

In addition there have been at least another half-dozen inquiries, the minister said.

To meet the province's $80,000,000 highway construction program, the highways department recently hired 16 new engineers for key positions, and six more are expected to join the department soon, the minister said.

SHAPING UP

"We are getting our maintenance staff in pretty good shape despite the recent loss of several top men to private industry," he said.

Seven of the 15 new men will be appointed district engineers; five will work for the bridge and location branches, two will head the surfacing branch, one will become a resident engineer with the construction branch, and another will be appointed regional construction engineer.

All have come from other provinces, mainly Ontario.

They were interviewed in mid-January when Deputy Minister Evan Jones and personnel officer H. C. Davies travelled as far as Ottawa in search of engineering talent.

In addition, the department has recently hired about 30 engineering aides who will make up survey crews. Another dozen civil engineering students will join the department to take over junior supervisory jobs.

The minister said there is still a need for more resident engineers.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Collars and Head Bandeaux In Matching Pastel Shades

By PENNY SAVER

Combine a length of shiny, thin silver twist cord, with the softest of pastel ribbon, centre it with a thin plastic head bandeau, and there you have a spring and summertime bandeau to go with your prettiest dresses. A braided and crocheted pattern gives an ornate yet adaptable look that will dress up sweaters, or complement dresses. They come in turquoise, pink, white, red, powder blue and yellow, in two widths, and cost 39 cents each.

To really put the finishing touches on a soft, dress-up sweater, wear one of these headbands with a matching collar. White, pink, blue or yellow, composition collars are trimmed with the same crocheted pattern that's on the headbands. There are two shapes in collars, and they're held with little pearl-studded safety pins. You young working girls and high school students will be pleased to own these. They're 98 cents each.

Wallets and change purses always seem to take up so much space in my bag that I went looking for a purse or change bag that would solve my problems, and make finding change and bills less of an ordeal. Those of you who have never seen a French purse will be amazed at the ingenuity of design in the pastel beauties I've found. There's a clip fastening on one side which closes a change purse, and also a snap closing on the other side that holds a folding billfold section. There's an interesting note in that there's a slot at the top of the change purse through which an end of the bills pokes through. Therefore, you may remove the bills without opening the billfold section. Besides all this, there's a picture folder, too. They are really perfect for a lady's purse, and come in all the newest colors that match the spring tones. There's red, blue, grey, green, turquoise and white, and they cost $3.95 each.

If you'd like to know where to find them, call me at 2-3131 and I'll give the names of the stores.

AS WE LIVE:

Don't Go Back on Promise About Mother-in-Law's Home

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

A promise is a promise and unless there is very good reason, one should never be broken.

(Q)—"A year ago my husband asked me if I would be willing to have his mother come to live with us. Her husband had died shortly before; my husband is an only child and he thought his mother should not live alone. She has some money and has been very generous with what she gives us for room, board and gifts."

"However, I find her a real problem. I work part-time during the day, as we have no children, but she never does any of the work until I get home to help her. Then, in the evenings, she and my husband talk together about people and things I don't know about and leave me out of the conversation. When we go to the movies or to see friends, she always wants to go along. I am finding I have gotten into more than I bargained for and I wonder if there isn't some way I could get her out of our house."—D.S.

(A)—I can think of no way of getting your mother-in-law out of your house unless she became ill and had to be put in a nursing home. You consented to have her live with you and now you cannot go back on your word.

It is always complicated to have a third person, who is an outsider, come to live in a home. But your complications are far less serious than many women have. I can assure you.

Most of these complications could be settled satisfactorily if you approached them in a tactful manner. This may take time, but it can be done in the long run. Then life will run more smoothly for all of you.

Why not ask your mother-in-law to do some of the easier household jobs while you are at work and then you and she can tackle the heavier ones when you return from work? She may not know just what you want and that is why she waits for you.

When she and your husband start to talk about people and things you don't know about, ask questions and thus bring yourself into the conversation. You can then tactfully shift it to something you are interested in. As for accompanying you, could you not arrange to have some of your mother-in-law's friends come to your home for dinner and spend the evening with her when you are out, or take her to see a friend of hers?

Hansen-Smith Wedding Vows Saturday in St. Alban's

Daffodils and pussywillows marked the altar of St. Alban's Church for the evening wedding of Miss Shirley Louise Smith and Harry David Hansen. Rev. W. E. Greenhalgh performed the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, 1534 Edgeware Road, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Hansen, 436 Springfield Street.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a powder blue suit with matching hat and rhinestone trim. She wore navy blue accessories and her flowers were red roses, white hyacinths and white satin streamers on a white prayer book. Her only jewelry was a small gold cross, a gift of the groom.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Barry Rae, sister of the bride, wore a pink, box-style coat over her teal blue suit with sequined wedding ensemble, and a red hat and black patent shoes. Her corsage was of deep pink roses, buds, and her jewelry pearl earrings, a gift of the bride.

Best man was Rae Hunt, and ushers Bob Smith and Barry Rae ushered guests to pews marked with white satin bows. A three-tier wedding cake centred the lace cloth covered table at a reception which followed at Loughheed's Banquet Hall. Daffodils and candles completed the setting.

Mrs. Smith, mother of the bride, wore a pale blue and black taffeta dress with pale blue accessories and a pale yellow carnation corsage. Mrs. Hansen chose a two-piece dress of print taffeta with accessories in tone, and a corsage of pale yellow carnations.

Leaving for a honeymoon trip up-Island, the bride wore a pale pink, box-style coat over her teal blue suit with sequined wedding ensemble, and a red hat and black patent shoes. Her corsage was of deep pink roses, buds, and her jewelry pearl earrings, a gift of the bride.

No Stinting on Food in This Square Meal Diet

By MRS. D. I. ELLIOTT

Here's the third of a seven-day series on keeping your weight in check with a "Square Meal Diet," prepared by a consumer specialist for the National Dairy Council.

You don't have to stint on everything when you're on a diet.

You can use these foods freely: Consomme, lemon and tomato juices, an additional small glass of skim milk or buttermilk, celery, lettuce, green pepper, carrot sticks, radishes, cucumber.

But watch out for fats and sugars in cooking and at the table. Use them sparingly. Choose medium fat or lean meats. In calorie value, 1 1/4 tablespoons of sugar equal one tablespoon French dressing or mayonnaise, or one medium pat of butter.

Here's the third day's menu for your seven-day, 1,400-calorie diet:

BREAKFAST

1/2 cup tomato juice
1 fried egg
1 thin slice toast
1 medium pat butter
1/4 cup whole milk

LUNCH

Chef's salad
1 cup vegetables
1/2 cup meat and cheese
1 tsp. French dressing
2 rye wafers
1/4 cup whole milk

DINNER

2 medium slices pork roast
1/2 cup broccoli
1/2 medium pat butter
1/4 cup grapefruit or salad
1/4 cup whole milk

(Next: Breakfast is important to Janice Paige.)

Blondes and Redheads Found Amongst the Lebanese

By LYNN NEWTON LOWES

Lebanese, Bedouins and the refugees with whom her husband is working through his position with UNRWA all have a place in the interests of Mrs. Peter Lowes. Here she tells more of impressions gleaned in Beirut and the surrounding countryside.

Beirut, Lebanon

"This weekend we have been able to observe some more typical Beirut lightning and rain storms from our balcony. Even in the middle of the afternoon the whole sky will light up. This goes on all winter, we are told, but the storms pass quickly and are not objectionable. (I say winter but we are still swimming)

"I enjoy the Lebanese people very much. Of course there are all classes. The educated person here is very European, like the French, and charming and hospitable. In appearance they are like the Jew or Armenian, dark complexion and slightly heavy build. The young women are beautiful and dress perfectly. They say that the fashions here are the best anywhere and one gets that impression walking down town. But the women, like the men, seem to get heavy after the age of 30. You can find all types, though, blondes and many red heads. There is a red-haired boy in my art class who claims he comes directly from the Phoenicians of Tyre. Must be some crusader mixed up there!

"The Bedouin Arabs are mostly out on the desert or on the land just outside Beirut. They still wear their native dress which is most attractive. You see many in the city selling rugs and pottery. The women wear very bright colors, a mixture of pinks, orange reds and yellows. Seen against the background of the brown desert these colors are beautiful.

"On our way to Aleppo we saw about a dozen women carrying rocks in baskets on their heads from the very rocky land to the roadside to be used for widening the road.

"Many men wear those peculiar baggy trousers here. It allows them to sit on their haunches comfortably and I suppose its cool but it looks funny.

Refugees From Old Palestine in Hovels

"I haven't been to one of the camps yet but we passed several on the road north and south of Beirut. It is a very sad thing for the people live in hovels and often there are several families which include aunts, uncles, cousins, in one place. They are all from the old Palestine, now Israel. We have met many of the educated Palestinians who are working in UNRWA and they are a very fine lot. One in particular whose family was driven out of Turkey and now again from Palestine. He is an Armenian though and they seem to climb up and out wherever they are.

"The Lebanese people do not like the refugees here nor do they like the UN. The bomb that went off on UN day outside our last place was directed at the house of the UN representative for Lebanon government. But don't worry, that is not the usual thing!

"Peter submitted his first project plans to a meeting yesterday and it was much approved, hence, he is off today on a trip to Jordan. He is connected up with a very wonderful story and a wonderful man called Musa Alami, who is nearly a saint among the refugee boys.

"Musa Alami was an outstanding lawyer in Jerusalem, and has been offered many high government positions in the Arab states, but instead he set out to look for water in the uncultivated, salty and derelict Jordan River Valley after being told by UN and Point Four that it was no good and not to waste his time.

"Well, he took several hundred refugees and started with a simple hand drill as no one would help him. He found water in every well he tried. Now, he has started an Arab development Society and has set up a wonderful model farm and school near Jericho. He has reclaimed many, many acres and is now growing crops. As well as this, he has 100 boys of 15 to 18 years whom he is training in agriculture, using new scientific and western techniques.

"I think Iraq was the first to help him financially, then Aramco Oil and Talpine Oil Co. (American). Now the UN has been persuaded that he has done a good thing and they are going to expand the school for him. That's Peter's project. There is much more in the story for this is just a brief outline.

"The French doors are open and I can see the storm clouds coming up over the sea and the umbrella pines silhouetted against them. Soon the jackals will start yelling as they do every night."

LOW-PRICED JEWELRY NAILED WITH EXCISE TAX

OTTAWA (CP)—A 10-per-cent excise tax will be placed immediately on cheap costume jewelry. Finance Minister Harris said Tuesday night in his budget speech.

The tax will apply on articles of ivory, coral, jade, semi-precious stones and the like where the manufacturer's selling price is less than $1 each, and on jewelry, cut glassware or china when the selling price is less than 50 cents each.

The Excise Tax Act up to now has exempted these low-price items because it was originally imposed at the retail level and the government wanted to free retailers from collecting the tax on a host of small items.

However, the tax now is imposed at the manufacturer's level and, Mr. Harris said, the exemption "is subject to abuse." Therefore, the law exempting tax on these articles will be repealed.

Family Returns Home

Mrs. E. I. Bell and children, Ronald and Gregory, 213 St. Charles Street, have returned from Saskatoon, where they have been visiting for two months. They were met in Vancouver by Mr. Bell, who spent three weeks with them in Saskatoon before returning to Victoria.

EARLY APRIL WEDDING

The engagement is announced of Claudia Pudens Pomeroy, daughter of Mrs. F. M. Pomeroy, 431 Young Street, and the late Mr. Pomeroy, and John Alexander McLeod, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. McLeod, 2339 Blanshard Street, Victoria. The wedding will take place on April 6, in St. John's Anglican Church at 7.30 p.m. Matron of-honor will be Mrs. Carol Holroyd; bridesmaid, Miss Jean McLeod; flower girl, Miss Kathleen O'Leary; best man, William McLeod; and ushers, Ralph Fell and Clifford Wilkins. —Photo by Jus-Rite Studio.

VISITOR

Miss Green Ellis, Winnipeg, formerly western editor of the Family Herald and Weekly Star, is a visitor in Victoria and is staying at the Empress Hotel. Mrs. Ellis found fame in western Canada through a lifetime of agricultural reporting and for more than 30 years her name was a by-word in recording farm activities. She retired in 1953.

Family film night sponsored by the Dorcas Auxiliary, Wilkinson Road United church, Friday at 7.30 p.m. A film on the North American Indians, "Song of the Shining Mountains" will be shown and a stage play "Lonely Road," that won three awards in the drama festival, will be presented. There is an admission charge.

Arguments Hot But Friendly Dr. Sherman Says

Keen differences of opinion on fluoridation were aired at a Lake Hill Women's Institute Monday, but earlier reports that the women had nearly come to blows were denied later by Dr. Marian Sherman.

Dr. Sherman, who chaired a panel discussion said, "The whole thing was in good humor and we sat down to tea together later."

She added that most vociferous speakers in the debate on the floor were non-member visitors, some of whom were "verbally violent."

The discussion saw fluorides named as a national security risk far greater than an atomic bomb. On the other hand, proponents pointed out the Canadian Medical Association, Canadian Dental Association, and Canadian Public Health Association have endorsed fluoridation.

Principal speakers on the panel were Miss E. M. Bruce, Mrs. W. S. Webster, Miss D. Cox and Mrs. C. A. Booth.

Joan Mollgard, D. J. Strank Wed In St. Luke's Anglican Church

An early spring wedding was solemnized in St. Luke's church by Canon F. Pike when Joan Mollgard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. Mollgard, Victoria, was united in marriage with Donald John Strank, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Strank, Cumberland.

The altar was massed with spring flowers, and baskets of white stocks and white iris. Family pews were marked with sprigs of shamrock caught with white ribbons.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gown in a waltz-length white Swiss eyelet over aqua crystal sheer dress in bouffant style. The fitted short-sleeve bodice was finished with a tiny Peter Pan collar. Her chapel-length veil of illusion net was held by a coronet of pleated white net dotted with iridescent sequins and pearls. She carried a crescent of white gardenias, hyacinth and stephanotis with ivy.

Little Cathy Clarkson was flower girl in a "story-book" dress of aqua crystal sheer, styled with double flounced skirt and Peter Pan collar frosted with dainty white lace. Her matching bandeau was caught with a spray of white flowers and her colonial bouquet was of rosebuds surrounded by cheerfulness and sprigs of shamrock. Bridesmaid Miss Joan Long was also in aqua crystal sheer, styled with scoop neckline trimmed in aqua velvet, a wide skirt with unpressed pleats all around, and a matching bandeau trimmed with white flowers. She carried a crescent of white iris, hyacinth and stephanotis with green ivy.

The groom had Charles Boyd as best man and Robert Bell and Don Donahue as ushers. During signing of the register, John Boel sang "The Lord's Prayer." Organist was Eric V. Edwards.

After the ceremony, a reception for 150 guests was held at Hampton Hall, where the couple was assisted in receiving by their parents. Mrs. Mollgard wore a navy blue taffeta dress with pink and turquoise tear drop pattern, navy accessories and a pink carnation corsage. Mrs. Strank's gown was sky blue lace, her accessories navy blue and her corsage of varied carnations.

Bioflavonoids Aid Health ... But What Are They?

Medical research and investigation constantly are uncovering new facts. One of the most interesting of these facts is the discovery of the bioflavonoids. These compounds have been found in many fruits and vegetables, especially in citrus fruits. They are called vitamins and have been found to be effective in the treatment of many diseases, including scurvy, which is caused by a deficiency of vitamin C. The bioflavonoids are found in the same places as vitamin C, and they are believed to be closely related to it. B.C.'s Brenda York Shows How To Victoria's Feminine Chefs

By TERRY FRENCH

You brides who haven't yet had to tackle the preparation of an Easter ham very likely have doubts as to whether or not you can do a good job of it.

The idea is, I'm told, to make the ham look like the glossy picture in the cook book, and taste like "the one mom used to prepare."

Well, that's just what you can learn to do... and better. The Brenda York Cooking School is here again. First "class" was held Tuesday evening in the Crystal Garden.

Don't think for a moment, though, that only recent brides are interested for these classes are arranged not only for them, but also for housewives who for years have had that "something" missing from their dinners, and who wish, once and for all, to give everyday meals a tasty spark. And they are for single girls like me, too, who want some tips on cooking.

Mrs. Dorothy Pybus, Vancouver, is B.C.'s Brenda York, and has a wondrous store of ideas to pass on to interested Victoria women. Demonstrating the preparation of foods is no new task for this enthusiastic woman, for she has been B.C.'s Brenda York for six years, and before this did the same type of work in Toronto.

A McGill University graduate, Mrs. Pybus has worked in eastern Canada, taught home economics in a high school, and spent some time in the RCAF.

Not only for demonstration purposes are her talents in the preparation of foods used, but at home, too, for there are two lively sons, Donald, seven, and Gordon, nine, who are becoming real gourmets with the help of their mother.

Amid shiny new stoves and fridges on stage in the Crystal Garden, this Brenda York last evening demonstrated a wealth of delicious desserts, as the highlight of the overall class. Mincemeat pie, a chocolate square cake and a white layer cake, uncooked cherry balls, and uncooked chocolate fingers are some of the delectable foods she prepared.

"It's so easy," says Brenda York, right. "Combine good food with imaginative preparation, and everyday meals become really interesting." The object d'art here is an Easter ham, which is being garnished and decorated with help from Times reporter Terry French.

The classes, brought to Victoria by Canada Packers and MacDonald's Ltd., will continue this evening, Thursday and Friday. They are sponsored on the respective evenings by the Broadmead Playground Auxiliary, Centennial United Church Women's Auxiliary, and Ladies' Guild of All Saint's Church. Tuesday evening's class was sponsored by the Companions to the I.O.P.

This evening, high protein dishes will be the highlight in the demonstration. Thursday will be frozen meats and vegetables, and Friday, hot lunches and casseroles. "The class" on a new line of smoked meats which are already cooked, and the method of grilling frozen steaks and chops, will be given each evening.

The whole program, from cakes and cookies through meats and protein foods, to advice on a good food plan, will be presented each evening, so get your notebook and take down the details. Then put on a large (but pretty) apron and prepare for action. You might surprise yourself with the exciting meals you can prepare, and delight your families and friends.

Simple Wedding Minus Trimmings The Choice of Margaret Truman

NEW YORK (UP)—Margaret Truman went ahead today with plans for a simple wedding minus traditional trimmings in her home town on April 21.

The long white dress and the sentimental solos both will be missing when she weds E. Clifton Daniel, 43, Margaret said in a news conference late yesterday. She will wear a short beige dress made in Rome by designer Nicole Fontana and have only organ music.

The 32-year-old daughter of former President Truman, who is frankly sentimental about true love and old acquaintances, is not superstitious about wedding customs. She said she won't even wear "the usual something old, something new... etc., unless somebody in the family insists."

Miss Truman disclosed her future wedding plans in person a day before she discussed her past boy friends in print in the second installment of her memoirs, "Souvenir," appearing in Good Housekeeping magazine.

Only the two families will be invited to the 4 p.m. ceremony in the Trinity Episcopal Church in Independence, Mo., where her mother and father also were married, Margaret said. Only old and close friends will attend the reception at the Truman home afterwards, she said, and added, "mother is running most of this anyway, so I don't know all of the details."

Her two attendants will be Mrs.

John E. Horton, the former Duane Snyder, and Mrs. W. Coleman Blanton, the former Mary Shaw, both of whom are mentioned frequently in her memoirs, including references to their first loves.

Margaret names more than a dozen of her own escorts in the White House, but she omits the name of the suitor who first proposed marriage in 1948.

"Much as I liked him, he wasn't the one," she wrote, adding that she always wanted a man who would sweep her off her feet.

"Who will tell me what to do in no uncertain terms and see that I do it."

If the regular Episcopal wedding ceremony includes the word "obey," she told reporters yesterday, that is fine with her. She "thinks it is splitting hairs" to omit it.

She will continue her career after she marries, Margaret said yesterday, although in her mem-

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY
Mrs. Ben Baker
(MOTHER OF 5)

"It's unfair to compare!" Good words and true when it comes to your baby, because there just isn't one child in the world exactly like any other. That all-too-common neighborhood pastime of comparing baby achievements can be upsetting for you—harmful for your child. So try not to be either envious or boastful where baby's accomplishments are concerned. If he's temporarily outdistanced, he'll catch up. If he's ahead of the game, chances are he'll level off. Champion and cherub baby for what he is and he'll thrive in his own sweet, individual way.

Toothsome tale Got a tot who's finding teething on the troublesome side? Gerber Teething Biscuits are the answer. Smooth-surfaced and extra-hard, they provide soothing relief for sensitive gums, and plenty of biting satisfaction to boot. Made of wholesome cereal ingredients, they're baked into a special shape that's easy for tiny hands to hold. Individually wrapped in cellophane for sanitary carrying purposes.

Do-it-yourself plan. Signs of self-feeding starting to show? Here's an easy way to help teach baby hand-to-mouth coordination. Place a sprinkling of puffed, ready-to-eat cereal grains on baby's high chair tray. Easy to pick up and pop into that adorable mouth—will keep baby occupied while you're fixing the regular fixin's for lunch.

Something new for you-know-what! It's a brand new taste surprise—Gerber Strained or Junior Mixed Fruit—a subtle, satisfying blend of apples, pears, pineapple and peaches—beautifully balanced for flavor and wholesome food values. Gerber Mixed Fruit is made from fine plump, tree-ripened fruit—pressure cooked to preserve true-to-nature flavors and naturally appealing colors. Women May Be Neglecting Freedom of Equal Rights

NEW YORK (UP)—Are young women neglecting the freedoms careers and find that this life is win?

Are young women eyeing cobwebs away from independence, Mrs. covered pedestals, minimizing Gruenberg believes. A girl should think she has to make a decision for or against a career when she marries.

There are signs that they are, two qualified women observers say. The word "feminist" has gone out of fashion and earning a living in a man's world has lost some of its Gibson Girl charm.

The two most publicized romances this year involve talented brides who leave no doubt that their husbands can cut off their careers with a word.

Margaret Truman said, "He hasn't put his foot down yet," when she was asked if she would continue her career after she married E. C. Daniel, Jr. Grace Kelly said, "Whatever the prince wishes is all right with me," when Prince Rainier III announced her movie career was over.

These statements are just examples of a feeling that has affected all young women in very recent years, Mrs. Sidonie M. Gruenberg, an experienced sociologist and author, believes. Mrs. Gruenberg is a grandmother and the co-author of a volume called, "The Many Lives of Modern Women."

"Young women today are wondering about their place in modern society, but they're not fighting for it," Mrs. Gruenberg said. "There is no doubt that we will lose ground before we reach the proper understanding of a modern woman's role."

Her generation had to fight for everything, Mrs. Gruenberg added, but young women now take their freedoms for granted. "Some of the women went to such extremes to have careers that it didn't make a pretty picture for the younger generation," she said. "And girls like Miss LONDON (Reuters).—More than 200 members of Parliament have launched a drive to try to keep Britain's theatres and music halls from extinction.

—They introduced a motion charging that high entertainment taxes are ruining show business, and called on the government to begin an immediate investigation.

—The music hall, once a standby of Victorian life, is rapidly becoming a thing of the past in Britain.

Only 40 years ago there were between 400 and 500 music halls in London alone. Now there are only about 65.

NEW YORK (AP)—A Georgian may who went through weeks of difficult questions about Abraham Lincoln missed the $64,000 TV quiz show prize Tuesday night.

Three people have gambled and won the $64,000 prize.

He was the first to gamble on "Big one and lose it." He didn't know how much Lincoln offered to compensate the states per slave for voluntary emancipation.

Robert Edward Bennet, 48-year-old store clerk from Kingsland, Ga., guessed $2,000 in his try for the top prize on the "Big one and lose it" question.

Master of ceremonies Hal March said the correct answer was $400.

Parish Women Will Assist Food Stall

The Parish Women's Guild of St. Mary's, Oak Bay, will join the Easter free food stall Saturday, continuing a practice of four years' standing.

Mrs. E. E. Harper food stall co-ordinator says needy families require food of any kind, especially staples, their plight having been increased by the recent cold weather and the rise in the price of vegetables.

Food may be left at McMorran's Pavilion, Cordova Bay; Graham's Grocery, Elk Lake; McNutt's Grocery, Wilkinson Road, and at Victoria Meat Market, Broad and Johnson.

Money donations, also welcomed, are used to buy items in short supply. Contributions may be made to Mrs. Harper, 410 Vincent Street, phone 8-9874.

Cyclist Hurt 6 Months Ago Still Suffers

A physician told an Assize Court jury Tuesday Donald Hector Binks, who was struck down by a car driven by William H. L. Davis on Sept. 9, last, is still suffering from injuries received in the accident.

Davis, a tannery employee and former fireman, is facing trial on a charge of criminal negligent driving and causing bodily harm to Binks, who was injured while riding a bicycle on the old Island Highway near Wilfrid Road.

The trial is before Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson.

Dr. Reuben Matko testified Binks is still unable to work due to his injuries, and can walk only with the aid of a cane. He said Binks suffered a fractured left leg, fractured pelvis and abrasions.

Earlier, Crown prosecutor Lloyd McKenzie said he would bring in evidence to show that Davis drove his car to the right of a vehicle parked on the road, struck some mail boxes on the gravel portion of the highway, and swerved to the left side of the road, hitting Binks.

Binks at the time was on his way to work, he said.

Jurymen selected for the trial were: C. A. Bennett, Ole Ostbo, A. G. Loney, H. C. Ellener, C. M. Kaehn, H. Jepson, A. W. Edele, E. Wright, B. C. MacLoud, C. M. Green and W. T. Aldridge.

Penticton Magistrate Quits Due to Health

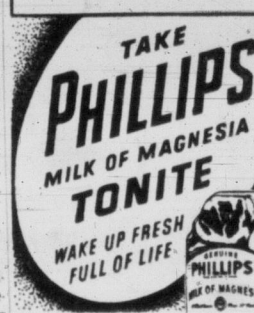

PENTICTON (CP)—Magistrate G. A. McLelland has resigned, because of ill health, as police magistrate and judge of the Penticton juvenile court after 21 years of service. A former teacher and lawyer, he practiced at The Pas, Man., before moving to Victoria. He came to Penticton in 1934 and was named magistrate a year later.

TO WED AT EASTER

Howard Green, Progressive Conservative MP for Vancouver Quadra, will marry at Vancouver during the Easter holidays. The bride will be Donna Kerr, assistant director of the provincial laboratories in Vancouver and a lecturer in bacteriology at the University of British Columbia. Mr. Green's first wife, Marion Jean Mounce, died in August, 1953.

Black Ball Boosts Nanaimo Ferry Runs

Increased Black Ball ferry schedules to and from Vancouver and Nanaimo and the Sechart Peninsula and Powell River areas will go into effect March 29. L. D. Birse, vice-president of Black Ball Ferries, Ltd., announced today.

The addition of two daily round trips between Horseshoe Bay in West Vancouver and Nanaimo will give Black Ball 10 daily trips for the Mainland-Island service. Commencing at 6 a.m., MV Chinook and MV Kahloke will operate every two hours on the even hour through midnight in both directions.

"In stepping up the frequency of Black Ball schedules for the spring and summer, we have timed the change to take place for the convenience of all those who will be traveling Easter weekend," Mr. Birse said. "Further increases in service will be made effective May 18."

NEW ANTISEPTIC DEODORANT

safely stops perspiration 1 to 3 days

Clinical tests prove that ARRID, now with Perstop, is 1 1/2 times as effective as other leading deodorants. Arrid's antiseptic protection keeps underarms dry and odourless.

1. Safely stops perspiration and odour.
2. Will not irritate normal skin.
3. Protects clothes from stains and clinging odours.
4. Soft, gentle vanishing cream. Never dries out.
5. Easy to use! Rub Arrid in, rub perspiration and odour out.

More Canadians use Arrid than any other deodorant.

DON'T BE HALF-SAFE. USE ARRID—TO BE SURE!

Your Airline Reports

TCA, one of the world's principal airlines, is owned by the people of Canada. Here are facts compiled from TCA's Annual Report for 1955.

—record year of growth in TCA services

In step with Canada's expanding economy, in 1955 TCA flew the heaviest passenger, cargo and mail loads in its history. More passengers were carried than ever before—1,682,195. During the year the airline flew its ten millionth passenger. Passenger miles flown increased by 14% to 969,392,395—more than were flown in TCA's first eleven years. The dependability of TCA operations is shown by the fact that 96% of all scheduled mileage was flown.

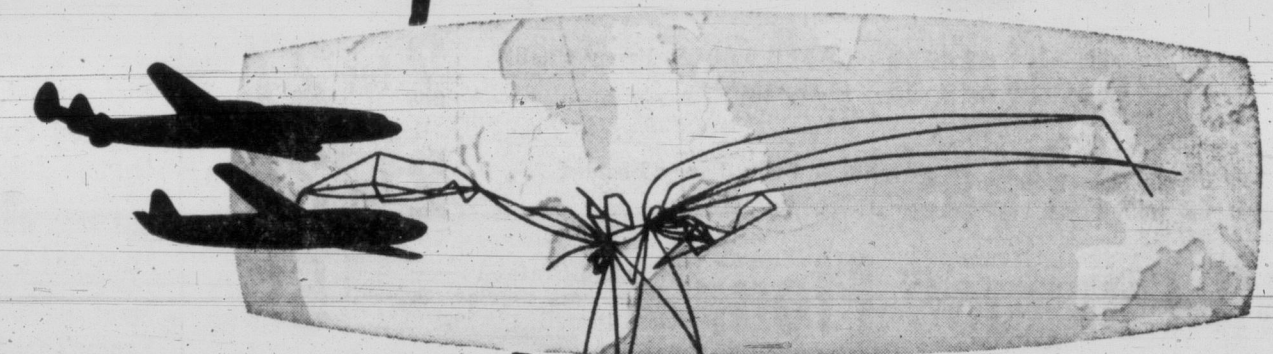

As planned, the increase in airline capacity was even greater than the increase in volume of business. TCA made available 28% more ton miles and 17% more seat miles in 1955 than in the previous year.

No Basic Increase in Fare Structure

In spite of mounting costs of labour, equipment and many kinds of supplies, there has been no basic increase in fares. In fact, the average passenger fare is less now than in 1947. This has been made possible by increased operational efficiency and the growth in traffic.

Today, air travel cannot be regarded as expensive, and is increasingly competitive with surface transportation. In 1955, TCA introduced Tourist fares to its Southern services, and applied reduced "Family Fares" to trans-Atlantic travel—further steps towards TCA's aim of making air travel financially available to more people.

Passenger miles flown	969,392,395—14%
Aircraft miles flown	36,246,607—12%
Seat Miles available	1,380,919,409—17%
Air Freight Ton Miles	9,951,059—19%
Air Express Ton Miles	2,167,137—21%
Mail Ton Miles	7,704,144—11%
Personnel employed	8,503—6%

Fifth successive year of profitable operation

For the fifth consecutive year, TCA's operations in 1955 showed a financial surplus.

OPERATING REVENUES	$77,428,254
OPERATING EXPENSES	76,770,922
OPERATING INCOME	657,332
NON-OPERATING INCOME (NET)	528,366
	1,185,698
INTEREST EXPENSE	995,603
NET INCOME	$ 190,095

Revenues from all sources increased by 12.6% over the previous year, with passenger traffic accounting for $61,105,243, an increase of 15%. Air Freight and Express revenues showed a combined increase of 30%. Due largely to the increased services offered and the expense of introducing new aircraft, operating expenses rose by 13.3% over 1954.

An index of the growth of TCA is the figure of $15,200,000 invested in property and equipment—largely new aircraft—during the year. Commitments for the purchase of new aircraft during 1956 and 1957 totalled a further $15,500,000 at December 31st.

Your airline...one of the world's most modern

Thanks to a planned expansion program, TCA has one of the best equipped fleets of any airline. Most significant development of 1955 was the bringing into service of 15 Vickers Viscount propeller-turbine airliners. TCA was the first airline in North America to introduce this type of aircraft, and their selection has been amply justified by their outstanding success and popularity with air travellers. Serving fourteen cities in Canada and the United States, the Viscount has proved an ideal medium-range aircraft. The trans-Continental and trans-Atlantic Super Constellation services introduced in 1954 have continued in popularity. The percentage of seat occupancy on TCA's services to Europe was among the highest of 12 competing airlines.

A major route exchange negotiated with Canadian Pacific Airlines extended the TCA system to Quebec City, Saguenay, Seven Islands, Val d'Or, Rouyn/Noranda and Earlton. Also service was provided between Quebec City and the Maritimes for the first time. By the agreement TCA relinquished its operation between Toronto and Mexico City. Service was also extended to Timmins.

Canadian business made increasing use of air shipping services during the year. Commodity ton miles totalled 12,175,433, 19% above the 1954 figure. Cargo was carried on the more than 150 daily scheduled flights, and all-cargo services which previously terminated at Winnipeg were extended to Vancouver, five nights a week. Converted North Star aircraft provided faster, more economical shipping service.

The airline flew 7,704,144 mail ton miles, an increase of 11%. Increased flight schedules expedited mail transportation.

TCA has recognized its responsibility to provide a balanced service to Canadian communities both small and large. In 1955, the Company operated to twelve cities having metropolitan populations of between 25,000 and 100,000, and fifteen cities of less than 25,000 population. Few of the continent's scheduled airlines provide service to such a high proportion of communities having a relatively small traffic potential.

LOOKING AHEAD... This year there will be more frequent flights on many important routes... new Viscounts and 2 of the latest type of Super Constellation will be brought into service. Detailed investigation by the Company's technical staff into the possibilities of new large propeller-turbine and jet aircraft continues. In aircraft, personnel and experience TCA stands ready to meet the challenge and opportunities of the future.

'OSCAR DERBY' STARTS ON C-4 AT 7:30

By PHIL LEE
Times TV, Movie Editor

THE CONTESTANTS: Who will be awarded Channel 6?

The fight for the local television channel is strictly a two-man combat. Contestants are David M. Armstrong, owner of local radio station CKDA, and William Rea, owner of New Westminster radio station CKNW.

Both battles were on view at the Victoria Gyro Club luncheon in the Empress Hotel, Monday, and it is hoped that when the members of the CBC board of governors review their applications for licence at Ottawa on March 28 they will be presented with a clearer picture than the one presented to the Gyros.

For the Gyros it must have been a most confusing affair. They heard one rival (Mr. Armstrong) introduce another (Mr. Rea). Following the introduction ("I am for him getting a television station, but not in Victoria") Mr. Rea promptly tore Mr. Armstrong's application to shreds. He, he claimed loudly, could give Victorians "twice as good" a station as Mr. Armstrong could. Why? Because he had the money. In fact he had a million dollars and Mr. Armstrong didn't have anything like a million dollars, what's more, he intimidated, Mr. Armstrong would have to borrow to put up a station.

Mr. Armstrong, meanwhile, beamed gently and puffed contentedly on his cigar.

After smiling benignly in Mr. Armstrong's direction Mr. Rea said "It isn't Dave's fault" that his engineers didn't provide him with as good a brief to submit to Ottawa as the one he had. His brief provided for 4,000 watts on the picture and "we'll give you double on the audio... you'll have twice as good a sound and twice as good a picture in the city of Victoria because of our application."

Mr. Armstrong continued smiling and puffing.

As a matter of fact it was difficult in the haze to tell the difference between speaker and introducer.

As the Gyro who was called upon to thank the guest speaker put it so elegantly, "When the bull has cleared away it will be interesting to see who does get the station."

Office Workers Hard to Obtain Says Supervisor

Office help is twice as hard to get today as it was a year ago, members of the Victoria branch of the National Office Managers' Association were told Tuesday night.

"Next year it may be twice as hard again to get help," said Stewart Don, Vancouver employment supervisor for the B.C. Electric Co. Ltd.

This makes it essential there should be no wastage of time and money by placing new employees in jobs too difficult or too easy for their skills.

Mr. Don said no piece of paper was so universally overlooked by business firms as the application form.

"Make sure it is up to date, clear and concise and not just a conglomeration of information that is not used."

"Believe me, we do have to cater somewhat to the job applicant today, because if he doesn't like conditions with your firm he can just go next door and get what he wants."

Beria Successor Flying to U.K. To Guard Bosses

LONDON (CP)—Gen. Ivan Serov, 50-year-old head of Russia's security services, will fly to Britain this week to work out bodyguard arrangements with Scotland Yard for the visit next month of Premier Buganin and Nikita Khrushchev.

The general, who was at the heels of the Soviet leaders throughout their recent tour of southern Asia is expected by Soviet jet plane—the first Russian jet land at a western capital.

Serov took over many of the powers of the executed Lavrenti Beria.

New Radar Units To Help RCAF In B.C. Searches

VANCOUVER (CP)—The RCAF search and rescue unit here will receive 76 transmitters and 18 receivers of the new radar unit known as "Sarah" to aid in search operations.

RCAF officials here said the equipment is part of a $1,000,000 order placed with Canadian Electronics for 3,000 transmitters and 60 receivers.

"Sarah" is a compact device the size of a small camera. It is a radio which is to be carried in the life jacket of airmen. The small unit can transmit a radar beam 11,000 feet high which can be picked up by search planes within a 100-mile radius.

Qualicum To Study Chronic Hospital

QUALICUM BEACH—Strong support for a proposal to establish a convalescent and chronic hospital in the area of school district No. 69, Qualicum, was shown at a meeting attended by over 100 people at the Island Hall, Parkville, this week.

Twenty-two organizations in the district were represented. The meeting was sponsored by the Mount Arrowsmith branch, Canadian Red Cross Society, with its president, Dr. H. H. Livsey, in the chair.

A committee, representing all communities in the district, was appointed to gather information on the approximate cost of operating a convalescent hospital, recommending suitable sites and other relevant facts. Their report will be submitted to another public meeting to be called within a month.

If verified the letter will be referred to T. S. Barnett, Liberal MP for Comox-Alberni.

Legislators Want More TV For Manitoba

WINNIPEG (CP)—The legislature Tuesday approved by a vote of 46 to 5 a resolution asking the federal government to encourage establishment of more television stations in Manitoba, additional stations in Greater Winnipeg and an independent board of regulation for Canadian broadcasting.

Four CCF members and W. A. Kardash (Lab-Prog, Winnipeg North) opposed the resolution.

Trial Date Set In Slaying Of Policeman

VANCOUVER (CP)—The trial of Joe Gordon, charged with murder in the fatal shooting of city police constable Gordon Sinclair last December, has been set tentatively for April 9.

The date was announced Tuesday by prosecutor William A. Schultz in County Court when he asked for an adjournment until April 24 of the hearing of a $26,000 bank holdup charge against Gordon.

Charged with Gordon in the policeman's slaying is Donald Harold Carey, 36. No date has been set for his trial.

THIS PATIENT SUPPLIED OWN SURGERY TOOLS

MISSION CITY, B.C. (CP)—Dr. J. R. Trembath used his patient's tools here when construction worker Elvin B. Comerford got an auger through the calf of his leg.

The accident occurred during construction of the Harrison River bridge. Dr. Trembath cut off one end of the auger with a hacksaw, then used a wrench to pull the other end from Comerford's leg.

7 Fires at Sea Stir Arson Probe On British Liner

LIVERPOOL (Reuters)—Detectives boarded a British liner here Tuesday seeking an arsonist who set seven fires aboard her as she steamed across the Atlantic with 600 passengers aboard. Officers of the vessel, the 17,872-ton Reina del Pacifico, said the fires, set in oily waste, were put out without serious damage.

Salk Vaccine Manufacturers Get Tax Break

OTTAWA (CP)—A step to put Canadian manufacturers of Salk vaccine on an equal footing with importers of the polio preventive is planned by the federal government.

Finance Minister Harris' budget Tuesday night repeated immediately the 10-per-cent sales tax the manufacturers pay for material used exclusively in making the vaccine. Last year the tax on sales of their product was lifted.

As a result, importers were in a preferred position—they could import Salk produced from tax-exempt materials abroad and sell it in Canada.

Government officials said the sales tax repeal is not expected to stimulate production at the two Canadian centres where it is being undertaken—Connaught Laboratories at the University of Toronto and the Institute of Microbiology at Montreal.

Grumbling About Taxes Hits Stand Pat Budget

Mayor Says B.C. Will Take Parks

Thetis and Goldstream Favored;
No Action on Beaver or Elk Lake

Mayor Percy Scurrell said today it is strongly indicated the provincial government will take over city-owned Goldstream and Thetis Lake parks for development as provincial parks.

He made the announcement following a meeting this morning with Lands and Forest Minister Williston.

"We will have definite word within two weeks," the mayor stated.

He added that although the minister gave sympathetic hearing to the city request for transfer of the parks, he did not indicate similar action for the Beaver-Elk Lake park area.

The mayor said if the province takes over Thetis Lake and Goldstream parks development would probably be as camping and picnic areas.

"Camping is becoming increasingly popular and the minister favors more campsites. Thetis would be especially suited to that purpose."

The mayor said he presumed transfer would be on the same basis as was proposed for Goldstream a few years ago. The government would take over the areas free of charge and develop them in the best interests of the resident population and tourists.

The city has been awaiting reply from the province on the proposed transfer since last fall.

A resolution for selective logging in Thetis Lake park has been tabled by council pending the government reply to the offer.

BUDGET HIGHLIGHTS

OTTAWA (CP)—Highlights of Finance Minister Harris' budget speech Tuesday night:

No change in personal and corporation income tax rates.

Current taxes on liquor, beer, wines, cigarettes, tobacco, soft drinks and candies unchanged.

All restrictions removed immediately from purchase and export of gold.

Minor exemptions worth $12,000,000 annually in sales tax assessed at manufacturers' level, effective immediately.

Provinces will get higher revenue guarantees under federal tax-sharing plan.

Twenty-per-cent tax levied on advertising revenues of Canadian editions of foreign periodicals containing some Canadian advertisements, effective Jan. 1, 1957.

Income tax regulations eased for pension plans and profit-sharing plans, with legislation to be introduced.

Government forecasts 1956-57 surplus of $113,000,000 on revenue of $4,763,000,000 and expenditure of $4,650,000,000.

Imported parts of farm machinery and equipment exempt from tariff and 10-per-cent sales tax, effective immediately.

Tariff board to consider overhaul of tariffs on zinc, zinc products, fire brick and possibly parts used in production and assembly of radio and television sets.

Markets Bullish; Golds Up

By The Canadian Press

Canadians, in initial reaction to Tuesday night's budget, brushed aside its story of mounting prosperity to express criticism of continued taxation at current rates.

From the business and industrial community came views that Finance Minister Harris could have reduced taxation and still maintained required revenues.

T. A. Rice of Hamilton, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, said the "conservative" cuts of 1955 has proved that a reasonable reduction in corporate and personal income taxes had little effect on government revenues.

NOT INFLATIONARY

Mr. Harris' apparently had been won over by the argument that tax cuts are necessarily inflationary, said Mr. Rice, but the steadiness of the consumers' index in the last year denied the validity of this argument.

At Toronto the stock market retained its current bullish mood today. Industrial stocks edged up to hit a record high in morning dealings, led by a strong banks section. Gold issues advanced moderately to their highest average level of the year.

Commendation came from the magazine field for the decision to tax advertising in Canadian editions of foreign periodicals.

U.S. FIRMS PROTEST

But at New York George J. Hecht, president and publisher of Parents' Magazine, said the publication will discontinue its 75,000-copy Canadian section if the 20-per-cent tax on advertising revenue proposed by Finance Minister Harris is put into effect. Hecht said he has sent protests to Harris and to the U.S. state department.

A spokesman for Time magazine said the 20 per cent tax was "discriminatory."

Tax Formula Change Gives B.C. $900,000

A last-minute change in the formula for the dominion-provincial tax rental agreements, announced in the Ottawa budget, will give British Columbia a break probably amounting to $900,000 in its revenue next year.

The alteration raises from 90% to 95% of grants under the previous tax agreement. The guaranteed floor for the new allotments to the provinces.

Finance department officials explained that under the terms of the new agreement as proposed, up to now B.C. would have received less money than it would if the old agreement continued.

The new plan offered by Finance Minister Harris means B.C.'s position is improved to the extent of about $900,000. It places the probable payment for next year when the agreement starts at about $52,700,000.

Only other province getting immediate benefit of the change is Prince Edward Island, which increases $20,000.

In subsequent years under the tax formula the amounts vary according to numerous factors such as the gross national product, population and other conditions.

B.C. Health Minister Eric Macpherson, as acting premier, said the new adjustment is "very encouraging."

CYPRUS GOV. ESCAPES BOMB

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters)—A time bomb was found this morning in the bedroom of Governor Sir John Harding.

It was the second attempt on his life in six months.

A young Cypriot Greek servant employed at Government House did not report for duty this morning. He still is missing.

An official statement said that the time bomb was found during a normal search of Government House this morning. It was hidden in a corner of the governor's bedroom and was immediately removed to a safe place and exploded harmlessly.

SENTIMENT TO RULE AWARDS TONIGHT?

"Marty," Dean, Magnani Favored For Oscars by Times Critic

By PHIL LEE
Times Movie Critic

Ever since the announcement that "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing" had been selected as one of the five best motion pictures of 1955 we realized that this year for the first time the judges and ourselves were treading separate paths.

How could they possibly select "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing" and leave out such outstanding films as "Trial," "East of Eden" or "The Desperate Hours"?

Suddenly the feeling betrays us. Surely the Academies this year aren't going to be ruled by sentiment?

If we were handing out the Oscars tonight here is where they would go.

BEST ACTOR OF THE YEAR: Unhesitatingly we would award this posthumously to James Dean, youthful star of "East of Eden" and "Rebel Without a Cause." Nor would this be from sentiment. We felt he deserved it for many fine characterizations and for one scene in particular—when he sprawled on the soil like any anxious boy might, impatiently waiting for his precious beans to grow. However, if Hollywood doesn't if sentiment rules the roost and "I'll Cry Tomorrow" or "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing" wins the coveted award.

BEST SUPPORTING ACTOR—We are expecting this to go to excellent fast-rising Jack Lemmon for his wonderful portrayal of the young girl-crazy, gold-bricking naval officer in "Mr. Roberts." However, our choice is between that remarkable young gentleman Sal Mineo who played with such distinction in "Rebel Without a Cause" and Arthur Kennedy, the despicable lawyer in "Trial." In the final instance we would give the nod to Kennedy. Indeed he was so hateful that one would have felt better about the whole thing if he had been disposed of early in the picture.

BEST SUPPORTING ACTRESS—We have been plumping for Betsy Blair, the wistful-eyed "dog" in "Marty" all year—one of the very few critics who have. And we'll go down rooting for her. We doubt if Miss Blair will win, however, for we fully expect the award to go to Van Fleet for her fine performance in "East of Eden" and "I'll Cry Tomorrow."

THE BEST DIRECTOR—David Lean for his brilliant work in Katherine Hepburn's gentle and beautiful "Summer time."

Let's all watch the hour-and-three-quarter ceremony on Channel 4 tonight, commencing at 7.30. It should prove to be as enjoyable as it is provocative.

BEST PICTURE: If a play's ideal is to capture life with all its flavors, shades and hues, then we stand and fall by "Marty." But don't be surprised

PRAYER FOR TODAY
OUR FATHER IN HEAVEN we would pray three times especially for our loved ones, some of whom are separated from us by many miles but are close to our hearts. May they know that we remember them daily, that we are one in Thee. Through Jesus Christ. Amen.

100 Flee Flames

MONTREAL (BUP)—A two-alarm fire raged out of control for nearly three hours on Mansfield Street early today, chasing some 100 persons into the street and causing an estimated $250,000 damage.

8,000 Homeless

TOKYO (UP)—A raging fire destroyed 1,482 homes in the Japanese sea coast town of Noshiro today, leaving an estimated 8,000 persons homeless.

Blast Kills 2

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—A city-rocking blast and towering flames today killed two workers, injured 11 others and destroyed a chemical materials building at the General Electric plant here.

Gunmen Get $12,000

TORONTO (CP)—Three bandits, masked in silk stockings and armed with a nickel-plated revolver, swathed a night watchman in adhesive tape early today, smashed open a safe and escaped with $12,000 in cash, mostly from the sale of vehicle and drivers' licenses.

B.C. Fire Death

DAWSON CREEK, B.C. (CP)—A young girl died in a house fire Tuesday night on the Alaska Highway, 300 miles north of Dawson Creek. The house, owned by the Hudson's Bay Co. Ltd., was gutted, and an older child was saved. Other details were not available here immediately.

Gold Price Freeing Means Little to B.C.

B.C. mines department officials said today they do not think the freeing of the federal gold price and other restrictions as announced in the federal budget speech will have any appreciable effect on gold mining in the province.

They pointed out that the $35 fixed gold price now is about the same as the world market price. Only a considerable increase in the free market price would lead to any greater activity in B.C. gold operations.

High cost of operation in previous years curtailed several marginal gold mines in B.C.

In Ottawa today officials said lifting of curbs on the free international movement of Canadian gold doesn't mean Canada intends to go back to the gold standard, officials said today.

But Canada, for the first time in a quarter-century, may be able to compete more vigorously with other free world markets for the gold hoarder's business.

It also may tend to divert to Canada some of the refugee capital that previously had been flowing into London, Paris, Bombay, Hong Kong, Tangiers and other markets that are controlled by national governments.

Next Gov. General?

A Vancouver newspaper columnist said today he had been reliably informed that British Columbia's next governor-general, MacMillan, was not immediately available for comment.

The new plan offered by Finance Minister Harris means B.C.'s position is improved to the extent of about $900,000. It places the probable payment for next year when the agreement starts at about $52,700,000.

Only other province getting immediate benefit of the change is Prince Edward Island, which increases $20,000.

Mixup in Irish Sweep Tickets

VANCOUVER (CP)—Elevator operator Muriel McCulloch and Mrs. L. Powell hope there's been a mixup in Irish sweepstakes tickets.

Miss McCulloch has a ticket with the pseudonym "Glee" and the address Hollyburn, B.C., and the number CDA 69885. A ticket drawn Tuesday also had the pseudonym and address but bore the number CDA 69883.

A second apparent mixup occurred in Mrs. Powell's case. Her ticket has the name L. Powell of Vancouver and the number CET 57082. The ticket actually drawn is reported to have this name and city but the number is CET 57882. Neither of the women have received telegrams confirming their tickets.

Canadian Wheat Acreage To Be Cut

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian farmers intend to reduce 1956 wheat acreage to a 13-year low, shave some coarse grain production but almost double flaxseed plantings, the bureau of statistics reported today.

Russia Makes New Nuclear Tests

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain announced tonight that Russia recently embarked on new nuclear tests.

The announcement was made by the British defence ministry at a time when former Soviet Premier Malenkov was making a tour of British power stations.

The ministry's announcement did not explain how the British government came into possession of this information. Presumably the tests were discovered through collection of radioactive material in the atmosphere.

40-to-1 Shot Wins Lincolnshire

LINCOLN, England (Reuters)—A 40-to-1 long shot, Three Star II, today won the Lincolnshire Handicap, the first big race of the English turf season.

River Line was second and Don Basilio third.

River Line, a fancied horse at 100 to 6, was beaten on the post by one length after making most of the late running. Don Basilio, 22 to 1, was three lengths behind the second horse. There were 41 starters for the one-mile event.

65 Algerian Rebels Killed

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—Sixty-five rebels have been killed in scattered clashes with French forces in the last 24 hours, French authorities also reported the discovery of 20 political assassinations.

The bodies of 15 Moslems were found near Seddoux after what appeared to be a fight between two rebel factions—the National Algerian Movement and the National Liberation Front.

Canada Claims Damages From Bulgaria

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada has submitted claims for damages to Communist Bulgaria in connection with the deaths of four Canadians in the crash of an Israeli plane shot down by the Bulgarians last July 27.

B.C. Will Take Over City Parks—Scurrah

Mayor Percy Scurrah said today it is strongly indicated the provincial government will take over city-owned Goldstream and Thetis Lake parks for development as provincial parks.

He made the announcement following a meeting this morning with Lands and Forest Minister Williston.

"We will have definite word within two weeks," the mayor stated.

He added that although the minister gave sympathetic hearing to the city request for transfer of the parks, he did not indicate similar action for the Beaver-Elk Lake park area.

The mayor said if the province takes over Thetis Lake and Goldstream parks development would probably be a: camping and picnic areas.

PROSPERITY IGNORED

Budget Brings Tax Grumbling

Canadians, in initial reaction to Tuesday night's budget, brushed aside its story of mounting prosperity to express criticism of continued taxation at current rates.

From the business and industrial community came views that Finance Minister Harris could have reduced taxation and still maintained required revenues.

T. A. Rice of Hamilton, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, said the "conservative" cuts of 1955 had proved that a reasonable reduction in corporate and personal income taxes had little effect on government revenues.

Jaycee Drive For Big Purse Now at $1,000

Champion swim marathoners Marilyn Bell and Tom Park will be among the world's leading distance swimmers to be invited to the Junior Chamber of Commerce to compete in a mass swim of Juan de Fuca Strait from Victoria this summer.

Jaycees made the announcement today as they started a campaign to raise at least $15,000 prize money by local subscription. The swim is scheduled for late August or early September as the normal tourist season begins to lag.

One thousand dollars has been collected already by the Jaycees.

"We plan to make as big a thing of it as we can for the good of the city," swim committee chairman William Davidson said.

"It will not only put Victoria on the map as a big swim centre," said club president Stickney Harris, "but will keep it there."

ENDURANCE TESTS

Swimmers planning to take part in the swim will have to prove they're tough before becoming eligible for the competition.

Each will have to go through a rigid medical examination and demonstrate his swimming and

CYPRUS GOV. ESCAPES BOMB

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters)—A time bomb was found this morning in the bedroom of Governor Sir John Harding.

An official statement said that the time bomb was found during a normal search of Government House this morning. It was hidden in a corner of the governor's bedroom and was immediately removed to a safe place and exploded harmlessly.

Kefauver Drubs Stevenson

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee hogged the victory and 24 of 30 Democratic national convention votes in Minnesota's presidential primary election. He was striking hard for four more convention votes.

Adlai Stevenson came out of Tuesday's balloting with only two convention votes clinched and a stunning defeat.

For the Republicans, it was President Eisenhower over Senator William F. Knowland of California, 187,722 to 3,324.

The Tennessee senator swept the Minnesota voting even though Stevenson ran with the endorsement of the party's state central committee and the

SENTIMENT TO RULE AWARDS TONIGHT?

"Marty," Dean, Magnani Favored For Oscars by Times Critic

By PHIL LEE
Times Movie Critic

Ever since the announcement that "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing" had been selected as one of the five best motion pictures of 1955 we realized that this year for the first time the judges and ourselves were treading separate paths.

How could they possibly select "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing" and leave out such outstanding films as "Trial," "East of Eden" or "The Desperate Hours"?

BEST ACTRESS: Sentiment

for Lillian Roth's courageous comeback will no doubt win most votes for Susan Hayward in "I'll Cry Tomorrow." But our choice is that magnificent Italian actress Anna Magnani in "The Rose Tattoo." Unlike Miss Hayward, she had no props to rely on such as alcoholism, but had to play the part of a poor, deluded, every-day Sicilian dressmaker. As a matter of fact she was the dressmaker.

might, impatiently waiting for his precious beans to grow. However, if Hollywood doesn't break precedent by awarding a posthumous Oscar then we would go along with Ernest Borgnine for his unforgettable role as the love-lorn butcher "Marty."

BEST SUPPORTING ACTRESS

—We have been plumping for Betsy Blair, the wistful-eyed "dog" in "Marty" all year—one of the very few critics who have. And we'll go down rooting for her. We doubt if Miss Blair will win, however, for we fully expect the award to go to Jo Van Fleet for her fine performance in "East of Eden" and "I'll Cry Tomorrow."

BEST DIRECTOR?

David Lean for his brilliant work in Katherine Hepburn's gentle and beautiful, "Summer Time."

Let's all watch the hour-and-three-quarter ceremony on Channel 4 tonight, commencing at 7:30. It should prove to be as enjoyable as it is provocative.

When th' Gov'mint takes over Thetis an' Goldstream, if they'll just abolish all th' improvements it'll make a couple o' nice, pleasant little parks.
